

HITLER DEMANDS CZECH SURRENDER

Czechs Prepare For Invasion

Czech observation balloons rise on the Czech-German frontier as Hitler's "final proposals" stipulate that Czechoslovakia must withdraw troops from Sudeten, and be ceded to Germany not later than Oct. 1 and all Europe fears Nazi activity and demands may result in another world conflict.—Acme Telephoto.

At Final Conference

Photographed here is the third and final fateful visit between Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of Great Britain and Adolf Hitler, held just before the British representative returned home to report to the British and French governments the results of his mission. The Prime Minister and the Fuehrer are studying a map of Europe in this radio-telephoto—a map they may have been remaking at the time. Dr. Kurt Schmidt, Hitler's interpreter, stands in the center.—Acme Radio-Telephoto.

Parents Of Child Star In Court

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Cecil L. Bartholomew, retired British army officer, and Mrs. Lillian May Bartholomew, parents of Freddie Bartholomew, juvenile film star, today were under court order to appear before Commissioner Kurtz Kauffman for questioning relative to a $7577 judgment against them.

The order was issued by Judge Ruben Schmidt on information from Attorney Leonard J. Meyberg, who obtained the judgment last November in a suit to collect money asserted due him for services during efforts of the Bartholomews to secure custody of their son.

Miss Millicent M. Bartholomew, aunt and guardian of the boy actor, also was cited to appear before the commissioner for questioning concerning $10,000 she is said to have on hand for payment to the boy's parents.

U. S. Court Hears $300,000 Suit

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Trial of the $300,000 alienation of affections suit filed by Charles P. Link, Pasadena dealer in oil leases, against his mother-in-law, Mrs. Amber Collins Massie, wealthy resident of Dallas, Tex., will be held in federal court, it was revealed today when the case was called for trial in superior court.

Superior Judge Robert Kenny ordered transfer of the case on motion of counsel for Mrs. Massie, made on the ground the defendant resides in Texas while the plaintiff's home is in California.

Link charged his mother-in-law, induced his wife, Adonall Massie Link, to abandon him June 20 and to file suit for divorce in Dallas,

Real Stork At Maternity Home

FRESNO, Cal., Sept. 26.—(UP)—What to do with the stork which visited her maternity home last night and apparently is prepared to stay was the problem which bothered Mrs. Harold Nygren, today. She might keep it as an advertisement, she said.

The huge bird failed to deliver the goods, for no babies showed up. It fluttered down on the lawn of the home just before sundown yesterday and prepared a nest among some shrubs, as if content to stay.

Migrant Problem Up for Study

FRESNO, Cal., Sept. 26.—(UP)—Local units of the California division of the American Association of University Women were asked by the executive board today to study the migrant problem as it affects their communities.

At a weekend meeting here, the board adopted a resolution urging that such a study be made, and drew up a budget listing expenditures of $1704 and income of $1988 for the coming year.

Speakers included Mrs. W. O. Villinger and Dr. Susan Bacon, both of Palo Alto, and Mrs. Malbone W. Graham of Santa Monica.

England Mobilizes Forces

FINAL PEACE PLEA MADE

LONDON, Sept. 26.—(UP)—The British government ordered partial mobilization of Britain's defense forces today and started war-time control of food prices.

While Sir Horace Wilson flew to Berlin and delivered a last-minute appeal from Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain to Adolf Hitler, Britain made ready for war.

King Stays Home
Chamberlain asked the king to remain in London, and His Majesty cancelled a proposed trip to Scotland to launch the liner Queen Elizabeth. The king's presence is necessary to sign mobilization and other papers in event of war. The queen and two princesses will go to Scotland for the launching.

After getting the king's assent to remain on call in London, Chamberlain returned to his office at 10 Downing street to await the result of Hitler's speech, which may mean peace or war.

Thanks FDR
Chamberlain sent a message to Washington thanking President Roosevelt for his "weighty message" on peace and promising that every effort would be continued for a peaceful solution of the crisis over Czechoslovakia.

Earlier, Premier Edouard Daladier of France sent a similar message to Mr. Roosevelt before returning to Paris after the momentous week-end discussions here. Gen. Marie Gustave Gamelin, chief of staff of the French fighting forces, followed him across the channel a few hours later. Gamelin and his staff officers carried with them a complete French-British plan for joint action in war.

Prepare Defenses
Britain started the preliminary machinery which may end in general mobilization if the storm breaks.

The orders to the troops included calling out the anti-aircraft and coastal defense units of the territorial army (similar to the American national guard).

The air ministry cancelled all air force leave, called up the observer force attached to the air force and instituted an air raid warning system.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE IN NOSE DIVE
LONDON, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Several billion dollars in market valuations were sheared off stocks and bonds today in the most spectacular trading in the history of the London stock exchange.

The heaviest dumping movement on record swept the exchange. Government bonds suffered losses exceeding those recorded prior to the outbreak of the World War. International issues were hit hard.

Fear War
Traders feared war. Offering, virtually paralyzed bidding interest. Transatlantic issues were hammered down for losses ranging to more than 4 points in Chrysler. All sections of the domestic list fell to the lowest level in several years.

Chrysler closed at an American equivalent of $63 15-16, off 4 5-16 points from the New York close Saturday. U. S. Steel dropped 3 3-4 points to $51 13-32. General Motors was 2 25-32 at $40 7-32. International Nickel 2 1-4 at $44 5-8 and New York Central 1 13-16 at $13 5-16.

Loans Fall
Losses in gilt edged British government loans, rated near the top of world investments, ranged to 9 points.

Holders of Czechoslovak bonds found no buyers. The issues were offered at prices down 12 1-2 to 32 1-2 points from Friday's closing.

DUCE PROMISES TO AID HITLER
ROME, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Premier Benito Mussolini definitely committed Italy to participation in any European war today and was understood to be speeding back to Rome to take charge of Italian mobilization at the zero hour.

Addressing 100,000 cheering Fascists massed in the main square at Verona, Mussolini thundered: "If war comes, Italy will not hesitate for one minute to participate in it."

24-Hour Duty
While he was speaking, it was learned from an unimpeachable source here that all pilots in active service and in the air corps had been ordered to remain on 24-hour duty at their air fields, that all leaves had been cancelled, that commanders had been told not to approve even a temporary furlough.

In a speech yesterday, Mussolini inferentially threatened to mobilize Italy's armed forces. He said that if French and British military preparations continued, he would take similar ones.

Today's was Mussolini's last speech during his tour of the Venetian provinces—speeches that have grown more war-like as the intensity of the European crisis increased.

Rush Aid To Storm Areas

BOSTON, Sept. 26.—(UP)—WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins conferred today with New England governors on the task of rehabilitating 100,000 made homeless by last week's hurricane, tidal waves and floods, and repairing nearly a half billion dollars in property damage.

The death toll of New England's worst disaster neared 650.

Hopkins arrived last night after an airplane and automobile survey of the devastated area.

Major Emergency
"It is incredible," he said. "What I have seen convinces me that the heartbreaking stories of death and destruction that brought me hurrying from the coast told but a fraction of the truth."

"Here is an emergency of major importance, one that calls for the united efforts of local, state and federal government."

GIST FACES COUNT IN RICE CONVICTION

Tommy "Tex" Rice, Newport Beach fisherman, today was convicted of stealing a bait net and was sentenced to San Quentin, and Lawson Gist, fellow prisoner in the county jail, faced a perjury charge as a result of his testimony that Rice's two co-defendants "framed" Rice as the ringleader.

Gist, himself convicted of kidnapping, robbery and theft, had told the court that he overheard Alonzo Whyte and Thomas Coultrop in the county jail, "framing" a story that Rice had engineered the theft, so that they could win probation.

Witnesses Sequestered
Police Chief R. R. Hodgkinson of Newport Beach, had testified that Whyte and Coultrop told that story before they ever reached the jail.

Railroad Workers Threaten Strike

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Officials of 19 railroad brotherhoods said today incomplete tabulation of a nation-wide poll of the 928,500 operating and clerical employees of all class 1 railroads indicated that the workers had voted almost unanimously to strike—if the roads carry out plans to slash wages 15 per cent on October 1.

They will make formal announcement of the complete vote late today or tonight. They indicated they would call a national strike for next Saturday, the day the reduction is scheduled to go into effect.

The strike call, however, would not mean an actual strike but would serve only as a final step toward a showdown on the proposed cut.

As a matter of fact, a strike next Saturday would be a violation of the law. The national railway labor act of 1922, designed to permit ample time for consideration and possible settlement of such disputes, requires that the question be submitted to a presidential fact-finding commission after the workers have decided to strike. The commission has 30 days in which to make its report and the workers cannot strike for 30 days after the report has been made public.

Fisherman Is Victim Of River

MODESTO, Cal., Sept. 26.—(UP)—Arrangements were made today to return the body of Christ Beck, 73, of Hollister, who drowned in the San Joaquin river while fishing Friday evening, to Hollister for funeral services.

The body of the victim was recovered shortly after noon yesterday. It had lodged against a tree about 65 feet from where Beck slipped 20 feet down a steep bank into the river one mile north of Hill's Ferry.

John Hucksby and H. C. McClure, both of Hollister, were Beck's companions.

N. Y. Trucking Strike Renewed

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(UP)—A strike of truck drivers which almost paralyzed transport shipping here for a week was renewed today with peace negotiations deadlocked.

Drivers in three locals of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters again took up their fight for shorter hours that started as an "outlaw" strike. It was ended temporarily under a four-day truce, but the time limit expired Saturday at midnight.

On the Run

Time was precious as Britain's statesmen hurried from conference to conference in the hectic days that led to British and French surrender to Adolf Hitler's demands on Czechoslovakia. Symbolic of the swift pace is this photo of Sir Roger Backhouse—a statesman on the run—as he arrived for a conference in Whitehall, London, Sir Roger is Britain's first sea lord.

BELIEVE SIX WOMEN VICTIMS OF SLAYER

ELMENDORF, Tex., Sept. 26.—(UP)—Officers were certain today that Joe Ball, 48, had used his hatchet to kill perhaps half a dozen more women as ruthlessly as he did Hazel Brown, young flotsam at Ball's roadside tavern.

At least six women were known to have had "affairs" with Ball and then to have disappeared, just as Miss Brown did. Yesterday Miss Brown's body was taken from a shallow grave along the banks of the San Antonio river, almost 24 hours after Ball had taken his own life by putting a bullet into his heart.

Helped Slayer
In an effort to learn more about Ball's victims police had taken into custody three of his employees, among them Clifford Wheeler, 32, the Negro who started two deputies yesterday by calmly relating how he had assisted Ball in dismembering the body of Miss Brown and burying the parts.

Not until Wheeler told his story did officers link the tavern operator, the son of a respectable and well-known Texas rancher, with the disappearance of women who had (Continued On Page 4, Column 5)

Urges FDR Call World Parley

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—(UP)—U. S. Sen. James Hamilton Lewis, D. Ill., a member of the Senate foreign relations committee, proposed today that President Roosevelt summon the signatories to the Versailles treaty for a revision of the World War peace terms.

"This is the time for the president to summon signers of the Versailles peace treaty to assemble here and to revise," Lewis said.

"As signer of that treaty our jurisdiction is complete. It is time to settle disputes of boundaries. Certainly no political influences of a European nature could be involved in a decision reached here under mediation of President Roosevelt."

Seek Westerner For Court Post

PASADENA, Sept. 26.—(UP)—A request that the Benjamin Cardozo vacancy on the U. S. Supreme Court be filled from the far west was before President Roosevelt today.

A resolution to this effect was adopted at the closing session of the California state bar convention Saturday night. It asked that a man be chosen from the ninth circuit which covers seven western states, Alaska and Hawaii.

Guy Richards Crump of Los Angeles, in submitting the resolution, pointed out the far west has had no Supreme Court justice for 13 years.

Delegates suggested as possible far west candidates Judges Albert Lee Stephens, William Denman and Leon R. Yankwich.

New Mayor Takes Over

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Superior Judge Fletcher Bowron takes over the office of mayor today from Frank L. Shaw, first mayor recalled in the city's history.

Bowron was elected as the candidate of "reform" forces who brought Shaw's recall on charges that his administration received support from the underworld.

Turns Over Keys
Crux of the movement was the bombing of Harry Raymond, a private detective who claimed to have knowledge of gambling interests' contributions to Shaw's campaigns, which resulted in the conviction of two officers of the police "spy" squad as dynamiters.

Mayor Shaw was not only the first mayor to be recalled, but was the first who had the sport.

OFFICER, FUGITIVE DIE IN GUN BATTLE

RIVERSIDE, Calif., Sept. 26.—(UP)—Two men who aimed guns at each other, 12 feet apart, were dead today, each bored by the other's bullet.

Jesus Garcia, who fled after stabbing another man, and Frank Jones, member of the posse that hunted him were killed in the point blank duel that occurred late yesterday at the tiny gypsum mining hamlet of Midlands on the desert.

Eludes Posse
Eluding the posse, Garcia slipped back to a bunkhouse and got a rifle. When the posse returned he fired at Jones from only 12 feet away but missed.

Jones pulled his gun and fired simultaneously with Garcia's second point blank shot. Both bullets struck vital spots and each man slumped dead.

Stabbed Miner
Garcia had singled out Jones because the latter had sighted him fleeing into the hills during the posse's hunt earlier, and fired a shot at him to frighten the man into halting but Garcia had dodged away.

Undersheriff Stephen Lynch said Garcia had stabbed a fellow miner during a drunken argument. The knifed man, Ismael Noriega, is expected to recover.

British Troops Sent To Hongkong

SHANGHAI, Sept. 26.—(UP)—A regiment of British Seaforth Highlanders was ordered to Hongkong today on four hours notice.

Informed persons said that six British battalions were reinforcing the Hongkong garrison. They reportedly included the Tientsin garrison. Only three battalions had been in China and it was believed that the remaining three presumably would go to Hongkong from Singapore.

All major British warships in eastern waters are now concentrated at Hongkong.

Driver Held After Crash

FRESNO, Cal., Sept. 26.—(UP)—R. L. Daniel, 23, of Parlier, was held here today for questioning in connection with an automobile accident which claimed the life of Arthur Whittaker, 23, also of Parlier, late last night.

State Highway Patrolman Joseph Masini reported that the car in which the men were riding overturned after a blow-out, while rounding a corner. Masini said Daniel apparently was driving at a high rate of speed when the accident took place.

Whittaker, critically injured, was taken to a local hospital where he died a short time later.

Silence Reigns At Court Hearing

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—(UP)—James R. Burns, 56-year-old printer, today awaited a probation hearing on a burglary charge following a trial at which none of the parties involved spoke a single word.

Hands and arms gesticulated, however, throughout the trial for both Burns and Peter Barthe, who charged him with burglarizing his home of several articles of clothing, were deaf and dumb mutes. The witnesses also, with exception of police officers, were mutes.

A special court reporter translated the sign language to the jury, which convicted Burns of second degree burglary.

SAYS HE "WILL TAKE" SUDETEN IF UNHEEDED

BERLIN, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Nazi Fuehrer Adolf Hitler told the world tonight that the annexation of the Sudetenland is "the last territorial demand I have to make in Europe—but it is a point on which I will not yield."

Hitler declared that Germany has an army "that the world will respect" and that it stood ready to "assure the existence" of the German people within their racial frontiers.

"I sympathize with the Hungarians, the Poles and the Ruthenians (Ukrainians), but I speak only of the fate of my own countrymen, the Germans," Hitler declared in making clear that he was not actively fighting the battles of other Czech minorities. Poland and Hungary have demanded that Prague return their minorities coincident with surrender of Sudetenland.

Set Deadline
In a speech awaited by the world as pointing the way toward war or peace, he declared that he spoke for a united and determined nation in reference to his demands on Czechoslovakia to surrender the Sudetenland by Oct. 1.

"The problem that occupies us is not so much Czechoslovakia as it is Mr. Benes," he shouted. It was the chancellor's first reference to Czechoslovak president, Eduard Benes.

"Germany's foreign policy is in contradiction to that of many democratic states," he said. "We have no desire to suppress others. Our goal is strictly limited by our racial frontiers."

Points to Power
But, the Nazi leader declared, Germany had raised herself from the disaster of world war defeat and was now an armed and powerful nation.

"Peace offers," he said, "cannot be unilateral. The other party cannot go ahead and say: 'I'll wage war whenever it seems necessary again.'"

"We all hope that in England those people will prevail who share this view."

Hitler said that "the lie that there was such a thing as a Czechoslovak nation" was an invention made at Versailles when the world war treaties were drafted.

"Nobody," he added, "took the trouble to check up on this claim. There are Czechs and there are Slovaks and they can't stand each other."

Attacks Benes
In reference to his determination to end what he called the "Benes problem," Hitler recalled that prior to the annexation of Austria "one statesman did not understand me. He was removed."

His reference was to Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg of Austria, who is now in Nazi prison awaiting trial.

The fuehrer said that "the father" of the lie which originated Czechoslovakia was Benes.

"There is a limit to everything," (Continued On Page 4, Column 5)

Kundt Jailed
She had greeted Ernest Kundt, a Sudeten German deputy to parliament and a leader of the German minority which Adolf Hitler has pledged himself to protect, and charged him with operating a secret radio station here through which he informed Berlin of all developments.

Two German journalists were arrested at the same time.

Her troops had reoccupied the Sudeten German region which Hitler wishes to annex to Germany and had dynamited bridges and other passages leading into the country from Germany. Over 2,000,000 men—every able-bodied man—manned the defense lines on the frontiers and the anti-aircraft defenses of the interior (Continued On Page 4, Column 3)

LONDON, Sept. 26.—(UP)—The high commissioners of Canada, Australia, South Africa and Eire (Ireland) conferred tonight with Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and Malcolm MacDonald, acting dominions secretary.

Czechs Defy Hitler; Edict Unacceptable

PRAGUE, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Czechoslovakia today informed Great Britain that Adolf Hitler's demands for surrender of the Sudetenland by October 1 were unacceptable and should be subject to further discussions.

The government's decision, made after a night of study as the nation prepared for war, was understood to have been communicated to British Minister Basil Cochrane-Newton.

The Czech refusal to accede to the German demands had been made known earlier in London.

Cite Reasons
The government listed its objections to the Hitler demands, emphasizing economic, ethnographic and national defense reasons for refusing to accept.

The objections were rushed to completion so that they could be in the hands of Hitler before his address to the German nation this evening.

Meanwhile, the nation calmly prepared for the fateful decision of war or peace, confident that she would have allies if war comes.

F. D. R. IN PERSONAL PLEA TO HITLER FOR EUROPEAN PEACE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today appealed personally to Chancellor Adolf Hitler and President Eduard Benes to maintain peace, thrusting the weight and influence of the United States against the tide sweeping Europe toward war.

Reply from either now might invite the United States to take a direct hand in European affairs.

His plea—first word from the President in this crisis—sped eastward as the British cabinet met and Hitler prepared again to address his Nazi legions.

Reply Possible
It was timed to reach leaders on both sides before they could make public any incontrovertible commitments which might bring war.

To Benes of Czechoslovakia and Hitler of Germany, the President addressed his appeal. The prime (Continued On Page 4, Column 5)

S. A. DRUGGIST IS HELD UP AND ROBBED OF $30

TWO GUNMEN IN LOCAL RAID

Flourishing a .38 caliber automatic pistol, two young men held up John Brunet, proprietor of a drug store at 1250 South Main, at 11:40 p. m. Saturday and robbed him of $30 cash, taken from the store's cash register, and a pint of whiskey.

Brunet told Officers W. E. Sherwood and J. B. Stephenson who apparently had passed the store while the men were robbing Brunet that the men first stopped in and explained they were "very poor" and needed money. Then one of them flashed the weapon.

Get Radio Call
The two officers saw a green Ford V-8 sedan which was used by the bandits, standing beside the store but thought nothing of it until a radio call sent them on a hunt for it.

Brunet said the men appeared to be slightly intoxicated. One is described as American, 22, five feet, nine inches tall, having dark, oily hair neatly combed; the other is described as American, 21, five feet, nine inches tall, having chestnut brown hair, wearing brown suit and brown striped shirt.

The pair obtained three $5 bills, 10 $1 bills and change before they fled. No trace of them could be found. They disappeared driving west on Wilshire.

OPEN ULTRA SHORT WAVE EXPERIMENTS

Control of ultra short waves is sought by Prof. G. Potenko and associates of the California Institute of Technology in experiments being conducted at Newport Beach.

Transmitting apparatus has been installed on the terrace of the Marine laboratory, while receiving apparatus has been placed on small boat. The experiments consist in measuring strength of ultra short waves at various distances from shore.

Using instruments which calibrate strength of signals, Professor Potenko hopes to learn the formula from which he can calculate the strength of short waves for any given distance.

According to Professor Potenko, understanding of the ultra short waves would be invaluable for use in medicine. Immense improvement in communications would result, he said.

FOR HOUSE GUESTS

Guests for a few days in the R. O. Winckler home, 2810 North Park boulevard, are Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Wines of San Diego, where Mr. Wines is engaged in the coffee importing business.

Last night Mr. and Mrs. Winckler had a little additional group of friends to share a buffet supper in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Wines. They were Mr. and Mrs. Roy James of Beverly Hills and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koonitz of Laguna Beach. Roy James is a well known artist from New York, now with MGM studios in Hollywood. The work of the famous picture, "The Good Earth," was an example of what he is doing.

The Bank of England has a $200,000 kitchen which can serve lunches at the rate of $200 a day. It is said to be the largest and most costly staff kitchen in London.

HUNDREDS ENJOY ANNUAL FETE OF S. A. FOOD GROUPS SUNDAY

More than 250 persons attended the sixth annual joint picnic of the Red and White Food Stores of Orange county and the Smart and Final company yesterday at Anaheim City park where a truck load of grocery prizes and a full program of sports events were the major highlights of the day.

Starting at 10 a. m. with a baseball game between members of the Smart and Final company organization and members of the Red and White Stores, the entire day was filled with contests and events. Dutch Frazee, of H. A. Smith's store at 914 West Myrtle street, captained the Red and White team while V. L. Motry, Howard Huggert and Claude Smith were umpires in the contest. Joe May led the Smart and Final organization to a 7 to 6 victory.

Other Events Staged
Following the baseball game, various events were staged, including horseshoe pitching, peanut scrambles, and races for boys and girls.

Ben R. Manker, branch manager of the Smart and Final company, was master of ceremonies at the block-long picnic table. Ham for the picnic was furnished and served by S. S. Hamilton and C. E. Roberts of the Hormel company. Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Elsie of the Mutual Citrus Products company served lemonade and orangeade during the entire day. Manker was assisted by Warren Webb, assistant manager, and Edward Ronk, Red and White field representative.

CONTAINS ALTERNATE PLEA

Letters of administration over the estate of the late D. Terrones, who died in 1931, or an order assigning the whole estate to the widow, was asked in a petition filed with superior court today by the widow, Mrs. Refugio Terrones. The estate consists of five acres of land in the Newbert district, valued at $1500. Legal heirs, besides the widow, include three daughters and four sons.

RECEIVE ENTRIES FOR OCEAN EVENTS

NEWPORT BEACH, Sept. 26-Entries for the two-mile rough water ocean swim on Sunday, October 2, are reaching the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce from several Southern California communities. In addition, entries in the race for life guards with paddleboards over from all coast cities in Southern California.

Gold trophies are being offered in each event. The swim will include three classes, one for men, one for women and one for individuals over 50 years of age. Frank Crocker, head of the life-guard organization at Newport Beach, is general chairman of the committee in charge. He will be assisted by many well known life-guard officials up and down the California coast. In addition to a gold trophy as first award in each class there will be a series of medals for winners of second to fourth places in each event.

This ocean frolic is planned to include a series of ocean kayak races for members of the Fullerton and other kayak clubs of the Southland. Ralph Marsden of Fullerton will have charge of the kayak events.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PARTY

WINTERSBURG, Sept. 26-In farewell to members of the primary department of Wintersburg Methodist Sunday school who on Sunday will be transferred to the junior department, a party was given recently by teachers of the department, Mrs. Opal Buck and Mrs. Eva Beem. Games entertained and ice cream cornucopias were served the children.

The honorees included Vivian Gaston, Mary Gaston, Norma Ruoff, Wilma Rowley, Thale Edwards, Geraldine Hubbard, John Holcslaw, Corinne Bose, Beverly Bisculuz, Mary Ellen Bailey, Katherine Spencer, Daisy Kellogg. Those in Mrs. Beem's class included Jacqueline Young, Mary Kerr, Vivienne Grover, Grace Rowley, Johnnie Bailey, Jessie Edwards, Mary Shepherd, Margaret Rae Beem.

KENNEDY HEADS GIFTS DIVISION

Selection of Rex Kennedy as chairman of the advance gifts committee for the coming Community Chest campaign was announced today by Orlyn N. Robertson, general chairman of this civic effort to raise the year's operating funds for Santa Ana's eight charity and welfare organizations.

With the appointment of Kennedy the roster of department leaders in the campaign is complete and all enrollment is being pushed in all departments to bring the working force of the campaign up to its full complement of more than 400 volunteer men and women workers, it was stated.

Veteran at Campaigning

"Kennedy has served as a member of the executive committee of the chest board of directors and is thoroughly familiar with the problems faced in providing adequate funds for the welfare agencies," General Chairman Robertson stated in announcing the appointment.

"As a past president of the chamber of commerce and an active worker in other civic endeavors he has a knowledge of community affairs which will make him invaluable as a leader of this committee which handles the larger subscriptions to the chest fund."

In discussing the work to be undertaken by his committee, Kennedy said, "Our committee will work with a limited number of prospects in the higher brackets of giving ability and we must produce a large portion of the entire campaign goal. We shall confine our activities to business firms and individuals who it is anticipated will contribute in amounts of $100 or more. I feel confident that this group of givers can be counted on to shoulder its share of the responsibility for making the campaign a success."

Plan Joint Meeting

Members of all of the boards of directors of the eight agencies receiving their operating funds through the Community Chest will hold a joint meeting at campaign headquarters, 215 East Fourth street, at 7:15 this evening to plan activities which will put the full force of the agency volunteers in social service behind the campaign.

FIVE JAILED HERE AS DRUNK DRIVERS

Five men were booked at county jail today on drunk driving charges. Phil Eckhardt, 32, Los Angeles, convicted in Newport Beach township, must serve a 30-day term.

Monroe Sorenson, 38, Riverside, was nabbed by highway patrol officers following a four-car accident in Santa Ana canyon last night when three persons were injured. Ben Aranda, 38, Los Angeles, was arrested last night by Deputy Sheriff Ives Brown and George Portus while traveling north on Huntington Beach Boulevard near Huntington Beach.

Gabriel Marmalejo, 24, Corona, was arrested in Anaheim township by Highway Patrol Officer Ernest Sawyer. Cecil Smith, 36, 409 East First street, was arrested by local police while driving at First and Lacey, after a three-car accident.

Party Arranged By Mesa Circles

COSTA MESA, Sept. 26-Plans for a Halloween party for both members of circles one and two were considered at a meeting of the latter group all day at the home of Mrs. L. O. Bemet, 2120 Thurin avenue. Aid members are also participating in the flower show which members of the Costa Mesa Garden club have scheduled for October 7.

The next meeting of the general aid will be held October 13. A noon covered dish luncheon will follow the morning work session. A speaker and special musical program have been scheduled for the afternoon.

Laguna Chamber To Meet Tuesday

LAGUNA BEACH, Sept. 26-Among matters to be considered at Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the chamber of commerce will be Laguna's possible representation at the San Francisco World's fair in 1939, and a float in the 1939 New Year's Day Tournament of Roses at Pasadena.

Owen A. Williams, president of the local chamber recently was visited by a committee from Pasadena, soliciting Laguna's co-operation. In line with this invitation, Williams requests a full attendance at Tuesday's luncheon, which will be at Hotel Lagun.

S. A. YOUTH SLAYS OCTOPUS IN BATTLE AT CORONA DEL MAR

A battle between an aggressive octopus and a 17-year-old Santa Ana youth, George Chandler jr., of 630 South Main street, at Corona Del Mar Saturday afternoon resulted in victory for the youth, with the dead octopus being taken to high school biology class for study by students.

Young Chandler and his three brothers, Billy, 15; Howard, 13, and Stanley, 11, were in swimming when the octopus was noticed.

Dropping two crabs being held in his tentacles, the octopus started for George Chandler. While brothers ran to their camp for weapons, Chandler maneuvered in such a way that he got the octopus onto some rocks nearby.

Armed with a butcher knife and a long iron bar with prongs attached, he commenced the battle with the mollusk, which reached out repeatedly with his tentacles in an attempt to reach the youth. Young Chandler finally got the octopus to entwine his tentacles around the iron bar, then closed in with the butcher knife and stabbed it between the eyes.

The octopus apparently was a young one, being about five feet across.

Party Arranged By Mesa Circles

COSTA MESA, Sept. 26-Plans for a Halloween party for both members of circles one and two were considered at a meeting of the latter group all day at the home of Mrs. L. O. Bemet, 2120 Thurin avenue. Aid members are also participating in the flower show which members of the Costa Mesa Garden club have scheduled for October 7.

The next meeting of the general aid will be held October 13. A noon covered dish luncheon will follow the morning work session. A speaker and special musical program have been scheduled for the afternoon.

Laguna Chamber To Meet Tuesday

LAGUNA BEACH, Sept. 26-Among matters to be considered at Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the chamber of commerce will be Laguna's possible representation at the San Francisco World's fair in 1939, and a float in the 1939 New Year's Day Tournament of Roses at Pasadena.

Owen A. Williams, president of the local chamber recently was visited by a committee from Pasadena, soliciting Laguna's co-operation. In line with this invitation, Williams requests a full attendance at Tuesday's luncheon, which will be at Hotel Lagun.

O'SHANNON AND COLLINS FIGHT TOP SPOT HERE

Facing the toughest battle of his amateur ring career, "Red" O'Shannon, red-headed Mexican brawler from Boyle Heights, climbs into the ring of the Orange County Athletic club tonight to fight Willie Collins in the top half of the double main event.

O'Shannon is a colorful fighter, a clever boxer and terrific slugger. At the same time he has a more than adequate supply of intestinal fortitude that, on occasion, has carried him to victory from almost certain defeat. Collins has these same qualifications, plus more experience than the Mexican and is said to be a ring general par excellence.

In the second half of the double main event Kent Roberts of Los Angeles will take on Ernie Rivers, another Whittier fighter who is planning to turn professional.

Wayne Penn is booked for the semi-windup that may steal the show. In this match Penn, a blonde slugger from Seal Beach, trades punches with Fay Suvia of Los Angeles. Penn won his last fight in the O. C. A. C. by a one-round knockout.

STREET OUT AS BROWNS' BOSS

ST. LOUIS (UP)—St. Louis Browns officials thumbed through baseball's "Who's Who" today searching for a new manager to replace Charles E. (Gaby) Street. Admitting that the "Old Sarge" had served the club faithfully and had done as well as anyone else could have with the material at hand, General Manager Donald L. Barnes issued a statement that the Browns would have a new pilot in 1939.

News of "Gaby's" forthcoming dismissal followed by two weeks the discharge of Frankie Frisch as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, and baseball followers immediately began speculating as to whether Frisch might get the Browns' vacancy.

'BIG FOUR' OF 1938 AGAIN GRID LEADERS

BY LESLIE AVERY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK (UP)—Pittsburgh, Alabama, Minnesota and California, four points on the collegiate compass where the accent is on football, formed the vanguard today of grid teams marked "to watch" for the mythical National title.

Pitt, generally rated the nation's top team despite a scoreless tie with Fordham last year, crushed a highly touted West Virginia eleven, 19-0. The Panthers "dream backfield" of Goldberg, Stebbins, Cassiano and Chickerno, piled up 408 yards of running plays while a stout forward wall held the Mountaineers' yardage to 72.

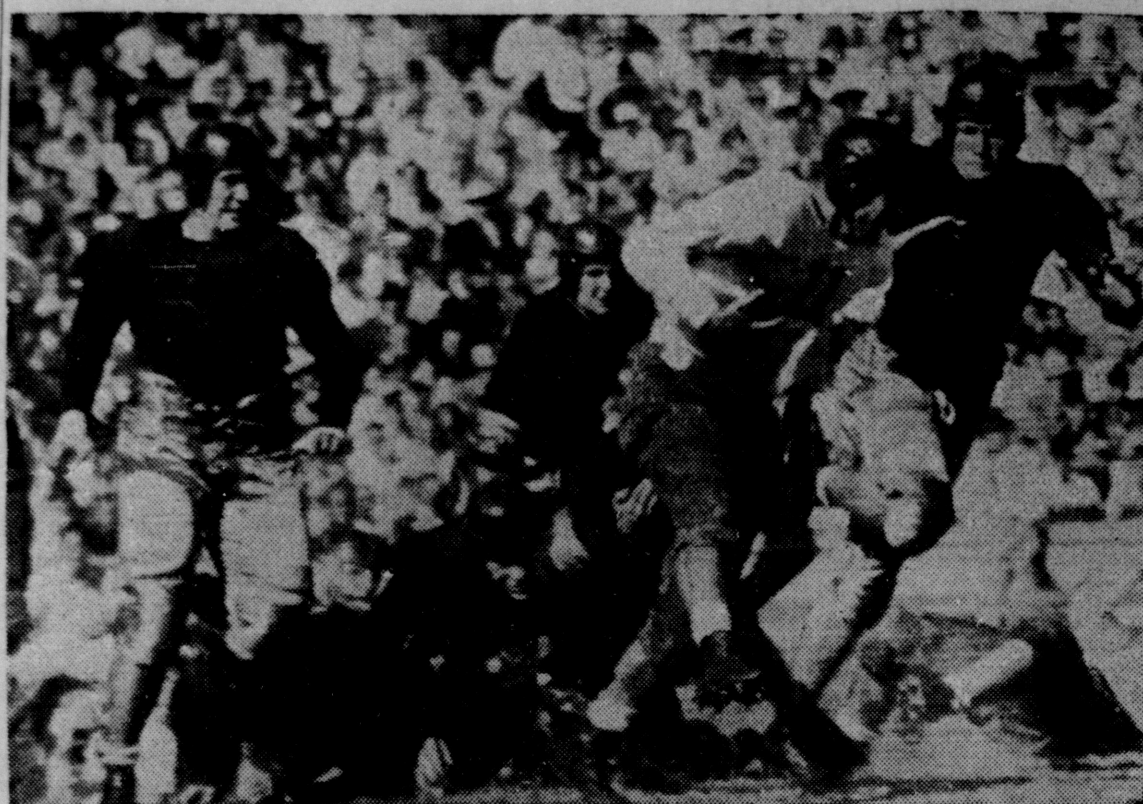

Minnesota's Gophers, defending Big Ten champions, beat Washington, one of the stronger Pacific Coast teams. Forgetting about passes, Bernie Bierman's boys kept their feet on the ground in scoring 15-0 over the Huskies.

If it hadn't been for a fumbled punt on the half-yard line, Southern California never would have scored against Alabama in the other big intercollegiate tilt. Beaten by California in the Rose Bowl last year, Alabama's Crimson Tide whipped the Trojans, 19-7, before the day's biggest crowd, 65,000, at Los Angeles.

California's Golden Bears scored 12-7 over a strong St. Mary's team, with a gallant last period rally. A poor punt by Capt. Jerry Dowd set the stage for the winning touchdown in the final minute.

Biggest surprises were the setbacks of Louisiana State, Tulane, Maryland, Ill. and Oregon State. Sugar Bowl representative for two years and rated as one of the strongest clubs in the South-eastern conference, LSU, was upset 20-7 by Mississippi. Tulane took a 13-10 whacking from Clemson; Maryland fell before Richmond, 19-6; Illinois dropped a 6-0 decision to Ohio university, and Oregon State was surprised 13-0 by Idaho.

'Rose Bowl Fever' Returns With Alabama

Tennis Officials Talk Fast To Save Budge From Nasty Old Pros

BY HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK—Your average tennis official (and when you say "average" you include them all, because they all are that) can't see past his nose. This is probably due to the fact that he carries his nose very high, not unlike that of a bird dog's tail when pointing a covey.

If the tennis officials could see past their noses (or is "nose" the plural?) they would not be scurrying around these days in an effort to keep Donald Budge from turning professional. And that's just what they are doing. I'll bet you that Budge has been promised everything from a cabin in the pines to a ticket-at-tacket if he will only agree not to desert the amateur ranks and cast his lot with Ellsworth Vines and Fred Perry, those dastards who play for money.

If the amateur tennis fathers could see past their noses they would be urging Donald Budge to quit the amateur group—and in a hurry. He is slowly but surely killing what small interest there is in amateur tennis. He is killing it because he is too good.

It won't be long before customers will quit patronizing the tournaments Budge is in. After all, sport is based on competition and when Budge plays his amateur rivals competition doesn't exist. There isn't an amateur living, and that goes for all the players in all the world, who can take a set from him if he doesn't want them to. Gene Mako took a set from him at Forest Hills Saturday, that's true, but only because they are closer than scotch and soda, Damon and Pythias, castor and pollux, gin and tonic, swiss and rye, love and money and rice and gravy. Had he chosen to, Budge could have turned back Mako with the loss of not more than six games.

The fact that Mako was his opponent in the final round is the tip-off on the state of affairs in amateur tennis. Mako is a nice boy, with a sweet smile and a charming manner, but he isn't a great tennis player. In fact, he is scarcely a good one. Yet, so poor is the field, Mako winds up in the final.

Budge should turn professional. Such a move would leave the amateur championship wide open, and a red hot rivalry between mediocre players is more to be desired than a continual "walkovers" of a great one. I would hate to be responsible for the sale of tickets if he stays amateur and goes into the final round again next year. I don't know how many it takes to make a quorum, but that many won't be there.

How would Budge fare as a professional? Now that is an interesting question. To look at him lick the socks off the amateurs one would say he had no weakness. But weaknesses come into view only under pressure, and Budge hasn't had any pressure since Baron von Cramm was made (against his will) an instructor in the Nazi concentration camp. Vines might reveal a Budge weakness. Vines is a hard-hitter; a harder hitter than Budge. I am not so sure that Budge's forehead would look so good when subjected to a steady flow of forcing shots. And Vines turns on the heat from the start and keeps it on. So does Perry.

Don't be surprised if Budge doesn't turn professional. Or, Donald, despite his red hair, lean face and million freckles, is social around the fringes. He likes the smart clubs, the tea hour, and that sort of thing. The thought of being separated from such surrounding, and having to play in barns and armories and backyards, repels him. Even for $100,000.

Let's not criticize him. He's only 21. And when one is 21 so many unimportant things are important. (Copyright, 1938, by United Press)

Revise Predictions On Coast Grid Race

BY JAMES A. SULLIVAN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SAN FRANCISCO.—The Pacific Coast conference football race was wide open today as the eight teams prepared for the second week of a season which started disastrously for four of them.

While experts were hastily revising their predictions as a result of opening day results, California, the 1937 champions, and U.C.L.A. stood out most prominently, with University of Oregon a possible dark horse.

Stanford has yet to receive its first test, as the Indians waited a week to open this Saturday against Santa Clara, Sugar Bowl champion.

The other four teams failed to measure up to pre-season expectations. Washington and U.S.C. beaten by inter-sectional foes in the openers, should find their strides against each other opposition this week. Oregon state and Washington State, however, drew far superior foes for Saturday's play.

The air went out of S. C.'s bubble with the 19-7 defeat by Alabama from the Southern conference. It wasn't the defeat so much as the failure of Howard Jones' eleven to show strength that disappointed those looking for the best Trojan team since 1932. Against Oregon State Saturday, the Trojans should look better. Their opponents took it on the chin, 13-0, from Idaho Saturday.

Washington, beaten 15-0 by Minnesota at Minneapolis, draws Idaho as its next opponent. The Huskies failed to click against the mid-western team, with fumbles, intercepted passes and backfield confusion.

California, 12-7 victor in the last two minutes over St. Mary's team that held the Bears until it tired, went on to Pullman to meet Washington State, which lost 10-2 to Dwight Ainsworth's sub-par 70 featured Willowick's team-match triumph over Huntington Beach, 14 1-2 points to 3 1-2, on the Santa Ana course Sunday.

Jim Clark, Huntington Beach schoolboy sensation, was second low with 74, followed by Ned Cook 77, Al Peterson 77, Don Mozley 78, and Chet Stillings 78.

WEST WINDS

Here and There in Local Sport

By EDDIE WEST

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK.—The New York Giants today officially ended their two year reign as National league champions. They are out of the pennant race and so are the Cincinnati Reds, who at one time had hoped to bridge the gap from last to first in one season.

But there still is a battle in the National league, with Chicago's Cubs, riding the crest of a six-game winning streak, hot on the trail of the Pirates. Pittsburgh has a two-game lead but moves into Chicago tomorrow from a three-game series which probably will settle the issue. Each contender has seven games left—the Pirates playing four with the Cubs and four with the Reds and the Cubs playing four with the Cardinals in addition to the Pittsburgh series.

Lucas Stops Old Teammates The Pirates eliminated the Reds yesterday with a 5-3 triumph. 'Red' Lucas, 35-year-old pitcher, was the hero of the Pirates' victory, winning his 14th consecutive game over his former teammates since he left them five years ago. The Reds started an uprising in the ninth and the tiring Lucas had to have help from Bill Swift. Lee Hendley led the Pirates' attack on Paul Deringer, getting three hits in three times at bat. "Arky" Vaughan hit a homer and Al Todd a triple.

With Clay Bryant pitching his 19th victory with only two days rest, the Cubs captured their 18th game in the last 19 played by trimming the Cardinals, 7-2. Six walks and two Cardinal errors combined with eight hits enabled the Cubs to put on two big scoring innings for all their runs.

The Boston Bees terminated the Giants' championship reign by defeating them twice, 3-2 in 11 innings and 2-3. Bob Seeds lost a fly ball in the sun which permitted the Bees to win the first game. "Rabbit" Warstler's single in the eighth won the nighttime.

The Yankees again took it on the chin, losing a 10-inning game to the Red Sox, 5-3. Jack Wilson's hitless relief pitching for five innings featured the Red Sox triumph. The second game ended in a 2-2 tie after the six innings because of darkness.

Hank Greenberg was able to hit only a double as Detroit won from Cleveland, 7-5. Boots Poffenberger won his second game since he was recalled from Toledo.

After the St. Louis Browns had won a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox, 3-2 and 6-4, President Donald Barnes announced that Gaby Street would not be retained as manager of the Browns next season. "Buck" Newsom won his 19th game in the opener and Emil Bildliff, Springfield, Ill. rookie, won his first major league game in the nighttime.

MARATHON GOLFER'S PAGE SLOWED DOWN

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—(UP)—J. Smith Perebee, transcontinental marathon golfer, found the Blue Hills course here "the toughest so far" he said today after 18 holes of play.

Perebee was beginning to show the strain of yesterday's play, in which he shot 165 holes in Hollywood and Phoenix. He made the opening round here in 91.

His elapsed time for the round was one hour and 25 minutes, about 10 minutes slower than his play on the opening day.

Yesterday he covered 165 holes in Hollywood and Phoenix, and climbed aboard his plane to sleep while traveling to Kansas City.

The 31-year-old sportsman has wagers totaling more than $100,000 that he can play 600 holes in eight cities within four days. Most of the bets are with Fred Tuerck, Chicago, who is accompanying him on the cross-country jaunt.

Perebee planned to play 72 holes here in the morning, then stop at St. Louis for an additional 72 holes over the Norwood Hills course.

One of the stipulations in his bet with Tuerck was that he must play each 18 hole round in 100 strokes or less. He must cover at least 144 holes a day, 72 holes in two different cities.

He was well within the limit yesterday. In the morning round at Hollywood his highest round was 99 and over the easier course at Phoenix he ranged between 79 and 83.

Galleries, caddies and members of his party were left behind by the lumber-legged Chicagoan who finished the day with 21 holes more than he needed to remain on schedule. At the finish his physician, Dr. Charles Alexander, Harvey, Ill., said that his leg muscles were tightening but that he would be in excellent condition for today's rounds.

F. E. (Ed) Farnsworth won Saturday's match play golf tournament at the Santa Ana Country club, finishing even to par. Ross Hostetler, second, was one up,

DOTS AND DASHES AND ONE OR TWO FLASHES

Who do you think was up there in the press coop, scouting both U. C. L. A. and Southern California for Coach "Tex" Oliver of the University of Oregon? Why our Mr. William Foote, assistant to Oliver when "Tex" was at Santa Ana, hi. U. C. L. A. goes north to play Oregon Saturday.

My idea of the UPSSET of the week was Mississippi's 20-7 win over Louisiana State in a night game at Baton Rouge Saturday. L. S. U. was in the Cotton Bowl two years in a row and in the South was supposed to be hotter stuff even than Alabama. Remind me to check up and see what part Johnny Lehnhardt had in the result. Sudden thought: Maybe Lehnhardt and company will be in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1. . . .

Lynn Arnett, the Dons' latest rage, has weak ankles and has to have 'em bound with yards of adhesive tape before every practice, as well as every game. After the Santa Monica game, Arnett showed up on the Don campus with both ankles swollen almost double. . . . Basketball stuff: Ray Lemon, a swell prospect from Monrovia, transferred to Orange hi the other day, sending Panther cage stock zooming. A crack center, Lemon sweetens a lineup that already includes such hot numbers as Letterman Dick Gunther, Art Hobson and Ed Kragge. . . .

Who said football was "opening up" because the preps are alarmed? Woodrow Wilson did not try a single forward pass against Santa Ana last week. . . . Anti-Jones sentiment will break out again soon unless the Trojans show more open stuff than they attempted against 'Bama. S. C. quarterback kept right on pounding at the guards with hardly an end run. . . .

Ed Stanley, co-captain of last year's unbeaten Dons, thinks Fulterton jaysee has a much stronger team than in '37. He was quite impressed with the 'Jackets after watching them trounce Glendale. . . . A softball team managed by Santa Ana's "Chuck" Rumell played at Wrigley field tonight in a banner attraction. Rumell's Columbia Mills club won the championship of Griffith park Saturday, closing a tournament that started with 140 teams. Their season record: 41 games won, 5 lost. Rumell is a versatile rascal. . . . Only last week he bowled a 273 game here, getting 11 strikes out of a possible 12. . . .

Santa Ana Country club's ace golfer, Jack Robertson, was the second low amateur in the Long Beach Open golf tournament that closed yesterday. He aggregated 292, with rounds of 72, 75, 73 and 72. His prize: a wrist watch. . . . Long Beach Poly brings a new coach as well as a new team here Friday afternoon to play Santa Ana's high school squad. With Orian Landreth succeeding Tex Oliver at Arizona, the Jackrabbits now are handled by "Verd" Montgomery, one-time LaVerne college great. . . .

Ex-Saint Don Warhurst started the season at center for California's freshmen who defeated San Francisco jaysee, 12-0, prior to the Bear-St. Mary's varsity struggle. Warhurst wasn't getting anywhere at end or else the frosh were unusually strong on the flanks. . . . Frank Maroney, Santa Ana merchant, saw the Bears and St. Mary's and says Vic Bottari "is all washed up as an All-America ball-carrier unless California develops blockers to replace Chapman and Meek" . . .

Old Hans Wagner, Pittsburgh Pirates coach, says the strangest decision he ever saw was at a Negro ball game in Pittsburgh one day. The bases were full and the count 3-2 on the hitter. The umpire called the next pitch: Ball four, but you're out—there ain't no place for you to go" . . .

San Mateo jaysee, Santa Ana opponent in the north on Nov. 18, is having trouble scheduling games. Only six opponents are on the schedule at this time and San Mateo has broadcast a general challenge. . . . Placentia's Delbert Jones is home from a season in the Middle Atlantic league where he batted .308 after a discouraging start.

NEWPORT TO COMPLETE BOND PLANS TONIGHT

BAY SPEEDBOAT TRIALS SLATED

NEWPORT BEACH, Sept. 26.—The Newport Beach city council will hold a special meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight, when final arrangements will be made for the $25,000 bond election. The council has set October 10 as the deadline date for the election.

The council has already filed application for P.-W. A. funds for the proposed municipal improvements. The council will also act on the application for a permit to hold speedboat trials on the county channel in Newport bay Sunday, November 6. A mile course has been surveyed and marked by City Engineer R. W. Patterson.

Local civic organizations will offer their co-operation in planning the trials and representatives from the Newport Harbor Yacht club as well as the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce will assist in arranging details of timers, judges and other officials necessary to carry on the speed-trials in accordance with the rules and regulations of the American Power Boat association.

Harbor Club To Meet October 6

NEWPORT BEACH, Sept. 26.—The Newport Harbor Business and Professional Women's club will hold its initial meeting at Wilson's cafe October 6, according to announcement by Agnes Blomquist, first vice president and program chairman. Guest night will be observed.

The annual membership drive will begin this week and conclude with the dinner meeting.

All accepted members will be invited to attend the Halloween party to be staged by the business women at the Lido Isle clubhouse October 20. The Halloween party will be strictly a costume affair and prizes will be awarded for appropriate attire.

The committee appointed by Miss Blomquist to aid her in carrying out the affair consists of Mrs. Mildred Lockhart, Miss Frances Larabee, Miss Marjorie Adams and Miss Lila Davis.

Nelle Williamson, president, announced the district meeting at the Mission Inn in Riverside, October 15 and 16. Mrs. Williamson, Miss Lily Lahti, district motion picture chairman and Mrs. Helen Isbell, treasurer of the local organization, plan to attend the affair.

Damage Appeal Compromise Given

Compromise of a damage claim at $175 was approved by Superior Judge G. K. Scovel yesterday in the case of Wilma C. Cannon, 16, injured in a traffic crash at Huntington Beach August 22.

The girl, who received cuts and bruises in the accident, petitioned the court through her father, Clemens M. Cannon, to accept the settlement of $175 offered by Charles Stewart, driver involved in the accident.

Our Children
By Angelo Patri

DEMERITS

I am against the use of demerits to discipline school children. They are too easy for the irritated teacher to use, too handy a weapon for the angry teacher to wield, and too one-sided altogether. The child against whom they are charged rarely has a chance to defend himself. The bad marks go on his record and he is punished for them, usually twice, for parents regard demerits as disgraceful and defend themselves against the disgrace by punishing the child.

Demerits are a negative form of discipline. I believe that it is better to be positive in administration matters. Rate the pupil for his conduct. Give him a positive mark for his month's behavior and it will be nearer the truth, more accurate in measurement, and more acceptable to the pupil.

Every school child has an off day, or hour, or minute. Children are impulsive. A lad, freed from the confinement of the classroom, may jump, even shout, as he races down the hall to his next assignment. That is annoying. It disturbs the peace. That irritates the teacher in charge so that he longs to do something to annoy the pupil in return and he gives him five demerits. Perhaps that is the only time in the pupil's career that he creates disorder; or it may be the only time in the month; or it may be the irresistible impulse of a nerve-strained child to relieve his aching nerves. It is not fair to blot his record and punish him severely under such conditions.

I can remember when I was in elementary school in the graduating class, and got five demerits for getting out of line. The boy in front of me had dropped his books and had to scramble for them before the teacher caught him and gave him demerits for such behavior. I stepped aside, slightly, to avoid stepping on his hands, and exposing his plight to the teacher. I got five demerits. I opened my mouth to speak in my defense. "And take five more for talking back," said the teacher. That was terrible. I could see my record, hitherto without blemish, marked with a red letter. I stamped my foot in helpless wrath. "And now you take a Zero and go right home and bring your father."

My mother was frightened. What had I done? It must be awful. I must have been outrageously bad to be sent home for father. Father listened gravely to my story, nodded his head, went to school and talked quietly to the principal. The principal talked quietly to him. I was sent back to my classes and the demerits never appeared on my record. But the memory of this has stayed to this day.

Better wait a little and take the pupil's behavior in more sweeping units. Don't jump at incidents. Deal with them firmly and quietly and consider the measurement of his behavior later in the month. Be chary about sending home special reports of bad behavior. Don't send for parents. Don't write special delivery letters of complaint. Wait. Cool off. Children change from day to day. Deal with them philosophically and without vengeance. Never use lesson marks as disciplinary measures. Give behavior time, and a wide view, and school life will be more successful.

Mr. Patri will give personal at-

Floods Wreck New England Highways

Crippled transportation facilities added to difficulties of rescue workers in five northeastern states as the difficult task of rehabilitating homes after a terrific hurricane began. In the wake of the tremendous hurricane that smashed across a vast area were an estimated 150 dead. Scores missing. OLD IRONY OF FATE MANIFESTS ITSELF AGAIN IN STORMY SEA

Fate must have had a grim laugh in reading in the list of those killed in the hurricane that struck New England last Wednesday when she read the name of Emerson Tabor, 80-year-old retired sailor of Montauk Point, Long Island.

"Man and boy," Tabor had sailed the seas of the earth in every kind of vessel known. A thousand times he had flirted with death on the oceans as he followed the seaman's course.

Recalls Narrow Escapes

Last Tuesday the grizzled old salt sat at his vacation fishing camp at the tip of Long Island and listened to the pounding of the surf as he contemplated his many years at sea and congratulated himself on having escaped the death that had taken his companions of the ships.

A little later he noticed "the glass was falling" and bad weather was due. Then, almost without warning, the full fury of the storm broke over his tiny cabin.

Told By Visitor.

Fate must have laughed at the grim joke of reading "Emerson Tabor, Montauk Point, Long Island, died by drowning."

This is the reconstructed story told to The Register by Oscar De Beck, Santa Ana advertising man, who had vacationed at the Tabor fishing camp for several years before coming to Santa Ana.

GAS SALES UP DURING AUGUST

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 26.—(Special)—Gasoline sales increased during August, it was reported today by the state board of equalization.

The gasoline gallonage distributed last month amounted to 158,084,636, on which a tax of $4,742,539.08 was assessed. This amount represented a gain of $94,139.08, or 2.03 per cent over the tax assessed for the same month of 1937.

Gain Over July

It also represented a substantial gain over the tax of $4,548,146.55 reported for July of this year, and brought the total for the first eight months of the calendar year up to $34,288,539.15.

Oil companies reporting sales of more than 300,000 gallons in July were listed by the board with the explanation that resale of gasoline previously taxed and exempt sales to the federal government or in interstate or foreign commerce accounted for differences between total sales and taxable sales.

PALACIO WINS IN NEW TRIAL MOVE

A new trial was granted yesterday by Superior Judge H. G. Ames to Juan Palacio, Santa Ana Mexican charged with an attempted statutory offense against a 12-year-old Mexican girl at Delhi last March 5.

Palacio was found guilty by a jury this week, and was in court yesterday with his attorney, James L. Davis, who filed an application for propobation on Palacio's behalf.

"Testimony Incredible"

"Is that the only motion you want to make?" asked Judge Ames, looking pointedly at Davis.

"I'd like to move for a new trial," said Davis.

"The motion is granted," said Judge Ames, who commented that portions of the girl's testimony at the trial was "incredible" and that certain medical testimony "was incompetent and never should have been brought into the case." The new trial date was not set.

PET TALKS

BY MRS. T. J. NEAL

September is out hottest month here in Southern California and the time of year that humane societies are called upon to deal with head prostrations in horses. Our local society has had several cases to contend with. Horses, like a lot of humans, have to work so if the drivers of these horses are careful and really care they can easily see signs of heat prostration. If the horses ears droop, and it suddenly stops sweating, if its breath is short and quick, if it stumbles and stands with legs braced, if it hangs on the bit, sways and dilates its nostrils; or if its eyes are fixed and it bleeds at the nose, the wise driver will get the animal into the nearest shade, quickly.

Harness and bridle should be removed, the mouth washed, body sponged, especially legs and under-tail, cold water or ice on the head. Never throw water over the horse as the shock would be too great for the heart. With prompt treatment and a half hours rest, the horse's life may be saved. I lived on a farm and I remember that my father, who had very fine work horses, always prepared for a hot day the night before. When the horses came in from work they were given a drink of water. They were thoroughly cleaned so they could rest well. Salty perspiration drying on the skin will make a horse un-comfortable and often produces sores under the harness.

After grooming, the horses were tied in airy, well-bedded stalls, and fed hay. They were always allowed to eat while cooling off. Water was given about 9 o'clock after the animals had eaten the hay, otherwise they would be thirsty all night. The horses that die of heat prostration are the horses whose drivers kill them by over-work and neglect. A horse can stand both work and heat if properly cared for.

The Jewish population of the world has been estimated at more than 14,621,000.

BROWN DRAWS ONE YEAR TERM

Ernest Brown, formerly of San Quentin and Folsom, was sent to the county jail yesterday for a term of one year, and ordered to make restitution for forgery of two checks, for $18.60 and $16.50, which he and his wife, Minnie, passed at Huntington Beach August 11.

Judge James L. Allen, who passed sentence on Brown, placed the wife on probation for six years, requiring her to spend 30 days in jail.

Gets New Term

Mrs. Brown, it was said, also agreed to submit to sterilization, after the expected birth of her baby several months hence.

Brown has served a term in San Quentin for burglary. While serving it, he escaped from a road crew, and when recaptured was sent to Folsom for the offense of escaping.

The name of Mrs. H. B. Schuth was forged to the two checks passed at Huntington Beach.

GORDON TO PREVIEW 1939 BUICK LINES

With the introduction of the new 1939 Buick models scheduled in the near future, W. R. (Stormy) Gordon, local Buick dealer, will leave for Los Angeles tomorrow to visit the Southern California Buick plant for a "preview" of the forthcoming line of cars.

The occasion is a pre-announcement sales convention of the Pacific Coast Buick dealers at which the new cars are shown to the dealers for the first time and the 1939 sales program will be discussed, Gordon said.

According to Gordon, word from the factory indicates that an enlarged program will be undertaken for 1939 in view of the encouraging business outlook and the increased demand for automobiles which is already being felt.

CANADA MINES MORE GOLD

OTTAWA, Ont., (UP)—Canada's 1938 gold production will amount to crease of $25,000,000 over 1937, of approximately $160,000,000, an officials of the Mines and Resources Department here predict.

Jimmie Fidler in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, September 26.—Idol Chatter: Hedy Lamarr would be even more glamorous if she could correct that slouching walk. I like that up-under-the-eyebrows glance with which Katie Hepburn expresses her derision. Best off-screen comedy of the week. Oliver Hardy's impression of a bubble dance. There's an absolute rule in Hollywood that all children appearing before the cameras must be physically perfect; make-up has to do the trick when invalids or cripples are needed.

First prize for phenomenal luck stories goes to Walter Catlett for his claim that he once embarked in Liverpool with only $35, bet on every ship activity, and landed in New York with $30,000. Cited for the Red Badge of Courage: Connie Bennett—for daring to wear a swim suit in her current picture. No sight in Hollywood quite so touching as an ex-star trying to hide his frayed shirt-cuffs. Thumbail description of Sally Rand: fan-tastic. And why wouldn't it be good slang to call our scenario writers "script-teasers?"

In spite of that too-perfect hair, Gene Raymond is really one of the finest all-around athletes in Filmville. An honorary degree to Glenda Farrell for her remark that good acting depends less on what an actor does before the camera than on what he doesn't do. The one time Gary Cooper wears an insufferable air of superiority is when he rolls a cigarette. Getting personal: why doesn't someone warn Janet Gaynor about wearing too much lip-stick?

The one type of movie in which you never see "anything to offend the most fastidious" is the horse opera, which depends primarily on adolescent approval. Buck Jones has always made it an absolute rule never to play a torrid love scene, not to allow one in his pictures. He neither drinks nor smokes before the camera. The same "shait note" have governed the success of Bill "Hopalong" Boyd and Ken Maynard. And horse-opera scripts are so free from smut and double-meaning that the Hays office has learned to pass them with only a casual glance. It seems to me that the phenomenal success of such pictures should do a lot to quiet fears about the younger generation.

About two years ago a girl named Terry Raye drove out to California in a battered jalopy—camping beside the road at night because she lacked the money to sleep in a hotel. In Hollywood, she landed a job selling candy in a Boulevard chocolate shop. The other day—as Ellen Drew, acclaimed by every critic as the brightest star prospect of 1938—she left Filmville for a visit to her family in Englewood, Illinois. She traveled in the bedroom suite of an extra-fare stream-liner and the red cap had to use a truck to handle her luggage. Now, in the face of a transition like that, does Hollywood expect to convince America's ambitious girls that the Cinderella-story is passe?

Reflecting on the reception that will undoubtedly be given Ellen on her trip, I'm reminded of an un-likely anecdote about Shirley Temple's recent jaunt through the East and the fan hysteria that greeted her. In Chicago, her appearance in the big Marshall Field store was the signal for a near riot. Five minutes later, store detectives, in desperation, begged Mrs. Temple to get her famous spring-off out of the place. The clerks had deserted their counters in order to see Shirley—and hundreds of dollars worth of merchandise was being looted by shoplifters!

Screwiest denizen of Hollywood (which is saying a lot) is Maxie Rosenbloom, the prize-fighter-turned actor. During the production of "Women in the Wind," in which he plays an important part, Director John Farrow has on several occasions tried to make up for lost time by shooting at night. When Maxie is in the scene, it never works. Mr. Rosenbloom muffs his lines repeatedly, finally screams, "I just can't remember after the sun goes down," and retires to a corner to sulk. Farrow still doesn't

U. S. MARINE CORPS PARTY TO INTERVIEW APPLICANTS IN S. A.

Postmaster Frank R. Harwood, announced today that a traveling recruiting party for the United States Marine Corps will be at the Santa Ana postoffice from 1 p. m. until 3 p. m. Thursday for the purpose of interviewing applicants for service in the marine corps.

Any young man who desires to make application at that time will be given a preliminary examination immediately and if found qualified will be furnished transportation to Los Angeles for final examination and for enlistment, Howard said.

Men enlisted at the Los Angeles office will be transferred to San Diego for an eight weeks period of preliminary training in the use of all weapons to prepare him for assignment to one of the foreign stations or to one of Uncle Sam's battleships.

PIANO COURSE TO START WEDNESDAY

The popular piano course opening next Wednesday at the Willard Evening High school under the direction of W. G. Axworthy presents the well known modern chord method of piano playing—basically created for playing popular music. As given in this course it will be found to apply to classical music as well.

This way of playing the piano has much in its favor because all music is based on a chord structure, it is stated. A student can learn all his or her playing from the notes or using the new way, which is learn the chords and their application to melody.

When a member of the Catalina Tuna Club catches a marlin he announces his triumph by flying at the masthead of his boat a blue pennant depicting a swordfish. The other day, Dick Powell, swordfishing in the launch of a hired skipper, put back empty handed into Avalon harbor where Joan and six-year-old Norman were waiting aboard the Powell yacht. And the first thing that greeted him was a big bath towel fluttering at the mainmast of the yacht. Crudely painted on the towel were pictures of three mackerel and three sea bass. "What's the idea?" demanded Dick as he swarmed over the side. "Well," said Joan dryly, "I wanted the world to know that someone in this family can actually catch a fish!"

WATER BOARD PLEADS FOR AID

Assistance of the county flood control district in condemning lands wanted by the county water district along the Santa Ana river near Yorba, today had been asked by the water district board in a letter to the county supervisors, supplemented by a statement from W. C. Mauerhan, member of the water board.

Condemnation of the Bradford and Ibbetson properties is sought, it was said, in a move to eliminate the Yorba "bottleneck" where a flood menace exists.

Lacks Authority. Mauerhan explained that the water district lacks authority to condemn property, but that resort to such a step must be taken, because of failure to agree on a price for the properties wanted.

Bradford Brothers, he said, ask $4000 for 12 acres, partly citrus grove and partly riverbed. This figure is above the amount fixed by the schedule adopted by the water board, which is $1500 per acre for orange grove, and $25 per acre for riverbed.

Cannot Vary. However, the Bradford groves are double-set, which Mauerhan admitted might make it worth the price asked, but which was not taken into account when the water district schedule was set.

The other parcel of 1.356 acres is riverbed owned by R. Ibbetson, it was said. The owner asks $1000 for it. The district offers $33.90.

Supervisor Harry D. Riley advised Mauerhan that the supervisors would make a decision as to a condemnation step by next Tuesday.

Christian Science. "Reality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. The Golden Text was from the Psalms: "Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: the sceptre of thy kingdom is a right sceptre."

Among the Scriptural citations in the Lesson-Sermon were these statements from Proverbs: "Wisdom hath builded her house, she hath hewn out her seven pillars: ... Forsake the foolish, and live; and go in the way of understanding"; and these words of Paul to the Corinthians: "And I, brethren, when I came to you, came not with excellency of speech or of wisdom, declaring unto you the testimony of God. . . . And my speech and my words of man's wisdom, but in demonstration of the spirit and of power."

The Lesson-Sermon included also these passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The one Mind, God, contains no mortal opinions. All that is real is included in this immortal Mind. 'No wisdom is wise but His wisdom; no truth is true, no love is lovely, no life is life but the divine; no good is, but the good God bestows.'"

3 Claims Spring From Accident. Three damage claims, aggregating $4940, were contained in a lawsuit filed in superior court today against Herman Karsten, as the result of a traffic crash on Valley boulevard, near Pomona, last year.

The plaintiffs are Siegfried Streed, who asks $940; Dagmar Streed, who sued for $3500; and Ruth Scholin, who asks $500.

"JAPAN ORIENTS CHINA" IS SUBJECT OF RED CROSS TALK

Calvin Flint, dean of men at the Santa Ana Junior college, has chosen "Japan Orients China" for the principal address at the annual meeting of the Orange chapter, American Red Cross on Tuesday evening.

The Woman's club will be the scene of this meeting, which will begin at 7:30 p. m. An interesting program has been planned including besides Flint's portrayal of his summer spent in the Orient, a motion picture, "Why Not Live."

Reports of the chapter's work since its last meeting in January, 1937, will be given out. A board of directors will be elected. Alfred Higgins, chairman of the chapter, will preside. Miss Ella B. Watland, a representative of the American National Red Cross, will be in attendance.

EMPLOYERS SUED BY STATE BOARD

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 26.—The California Unemployment Reserves commission today had filed the following suits against asserted delinquent employers for failure to pay contributions to the unemployment trust fund:

COREY TO ADDRESS JOINT FARM GROUP

Arthur Corey, director of public relations for the California Teachers association, will be the speaker at the fall opening meeting of the Cypress-Magnolia Farm Center at 6:30 p. m. Thursday at the Magnolia school house.

Corey will discuss measures appearing on the November ballot, including the single tax measure and the $30 a week pension plan. Entertainment Provided. On the entertainment program Frank E. Manuel will present a colored motion picture of scenes in the High Sierras. J. A. Baker will preside at the meeting.

Those attending the dinner are asked to furnish their own table service, salad, vegetable or dessert.

Mrs. Geeting To Conduct Course

The Tuesday evening course in public speaking, which opens next week at the Willard evening high school, will be conducted by Mrs. Mae Geeting. A brief outline of points to be developed is: Freedom, inspiration, preparation, positiveness, poise, listening, conversation, visualization. Mrs. Geeting has a rich background of training and teaching experience, officials declared.

SEEKS TERMINATION. Mrs. Clara A. Wood has petitioned superior court to terminate the joint tenancy interest of her husband, the late A. A. Wood, in four lots at Newport Beach. Wood died September 19.

DOCTORS, LAWYERS TO CONVENE OCT. 4

The Orange County Bar association and Orange County Medical Society will hold a joint meeting at the Santa Ana Country club October 4 at 7 p. m. George A. Parker, secretary of the association, reported today.

W. I. Gilbert, prominent Los Angeles man, will be featured speaker on some topic of medico-legal interest. "Because of the location of the Santa Ana Country club," Parker stated, "it is absolutely necessary to make dinner reservations. These should be in my hands by October 1. The reservations may be made in writing or by telephone."

Heavy water is composed of the same elements as ordinary water, but the hydrogen elements are twice as heavy as in ordinary water.

TRADE CLASSES TO OPEN HERE

Trade extension classes for craftsmen will begin this week at the senior high school. Carpentry will be taught by L. B. Anderson. This class will meet in the old print shop on Monday and Thursday evenings. The class in electric installations will meet Monday and Thursday evenings in the east end of the old shop building. This class will be in charge of Harry Becker.

Class in Welding. The welding will be the same as last year, meeting in the welding shop on Wednesday and Thursday evenings in charge of J. C. Coombs. These classes are open only to men who are engaged in the particular trade or who have occasion to use that trade in their work.

Plans are also underway to inaugurate other trade classes about the middle of November. Included in those classes to be started later are showcard writing, meat cutting, painting, plan reading, plastering, plumbing, tile setting, supervision of construction and salesmanship for retail clerks. Teachers for these classes are now taking a course in teacher training under John Gifford of U. C. L. A. Places where the classes will meet and instructors will be announced at a later date.

Anyone interested in these classes may enroll at the first session. Information may be had by calling 4868 or inquiring at the evening high school office in the old print shop at the Chestnut street entrance to the high school grounds.

Bridal Couple Exchange Vows In Costa Mesa

Gladioli, larkspur and chrysanthemums in bridal white and pastels were massed at the candlelit altar of Costa Mesa Community church Sunday afternoon for the 4 o'clock wedding of Miss Hollie Jacobsen, daughter of Mrs. Harry L. Bowe, of Costa Mesa, and Ben W. Anders, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Anders of this city.

Mrs. Gregory Kuester of Orange and Miss Betty Jeanne Stevens lighted the tapers, which added to the beauty of the flowers and the background of palms. A musical setting was provided as Mrs. Elizabeth Coe, wearing a teal blue knitted suit, played organ numbers including old love songs. She accompanied George Sherry, violinist, and Donald Krueger, baritone, each of whom gave solos.

"Because," "I Love You Truly" and the Wedding Marches were included on the program.

The Rev. W. L. Sibley read the double ring ceremony, for which the bride was attired in form fitting ivory satin and Chantilly lace. Her lace veil fell from a Juliet cap adorned with seed pearls and orange blossoms. Delphinium in her bridal bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley provided "something blue." Other traditions were observed in details of her costume.

Mrs. George Sherry, as her sister's matron of honor, was in King's blue taffeta, with bolero, and a bouquet of Talisman roses. Mrs. Harry L. Bowe of Long Beach was in empire blue taffeta with Biarritz roses. The bride's brother, Harry L. Bowe, was best man, while Allan Sherry and Alvin Rohrs were ushers. The two little flower girls were in sailing-blue frocks, and carried French bouquets.

More than 100 guests attended the wedding, which was followed by a reception at 111 East Wilson street in Costa Mesa, where the newly-wedded couple will reside. Wedding cake and fruit salad were served with chocolate and coffee on the lawn of the home. Mrs. Harry L. Bowe wore green crepe and Mrs. Anders, black crepe, each with a corsage cluster of gardenias.

When Mr. and Mrs. Anders left for an automobile trip through Southern California, the bride was wearing an oxford grey suit with black suede accessories. The bridegroom, who attended Tustin schools, is employed with the Irvine company. The new Mrs. Anders, a graduate of Santa Ana schools, has been bookkeeper with May-Bemis company for several years.

Ebell Travelers Begin Year with Luncheon And Program

Renewing associations and enjoying an informative program given by Mrs. Edith Cloyes, members of Ebell Third Travel section began their activities for the new season last week in the clubhouse.

Mrs. J. L. McBride supervised arrangements for luncheon, served at 12:30 o'clock. Special honors were accorded Mrs. M. C. Williams, birthday celebrant.

Mrs. W. W. Hoy, assistant leader, presided over the meeting for the leader, Mrs. S. W. Nau, whose absence was explained by a card sent to the group from the east, where she has been visiting.

Mrs. Cloyes' talk on "India and Tibet" highlighted the afternoon. Using a relief map as a guide, the speaker took the group on an imaginary tour of the far away lands. She spoke especially of Hinduism and Buddhism, the eastern religions which are centuries old.

Members received an invitation to share the hospitality of Mrs. Rolla Hays' new home on Balboa Island Friday. Luncheon will be served early in the afternoon.

Members welcomed were Miss Artie Cleveland, Miss May Pulhan and Mrs. Clara Prince. Others present were Mesdames F. L. Andrews, Albert Bowen, A. N. Cox, O. E. Catland, Edith Cloyes, J. E. Gowen, A. M. Gardner, M. M. Holmes, W. W. Hoy, C. H. Jeffrey, W. W. Kays, B. E. Kellogg, J. B. Kester, Herbert Krabbing, Perry Lewis, J. L. McBride, E. L. Maden, Bessie Mize, S. A. Moore, F. P. Nicky, G. C. Morton, R. H. Prothero, J. L. Stephenson, George Veeh, Herbert Walker, Jessie White, M. C. Williams, Dr. Ada K. Henery, and the Mesdames Blanche Collings, Jennie Burnett, Lucy Carter, Preble Drake and Gertrude Minor.

Sunday Afternoon Tea Honors Leaders of M. E. Church

Formal welcome was extended by Perry Smith Bogart, new minister of music of First Methodist church, Sunday afternoon when he shared honors with Mrs. Bogart and with Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Holman at a tea given in the church.

Dr. Holman has been pastor of the church for the past seven months. He and his wife and their daughter, Miss Katherine Holman, were in the receiving line with the Bogarts and Mrs. Clarence Bond, president of Associated Women, whose members were sponsors of the event.

Mrs. E. D. Froeschle had arranged a program which opened with an address of welcome by Dr. J. W. Straight. Mrs. A. J. Rutter sang solos, with Mrs. Victor Rees accompanying at the piano. Miss Anne Wetherell sang, accompanied by Miss Olive Schweitzer, who also played solos.

Pouring tea were Mrs. Milo Daughters, Mrs. Froeschle and Miss Mary Lamb.

Historic Old Mission Is Setting for Lovely Wedding Rites

Traditions of a glorious past blended with the beauty of the present yesterday when the lovely Miss Jane De Pedrona Magee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Patrick Magee of San Juan Capistrano, became the bride of Robert Everett Stauss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stauss of Oceanside, at historic old San Juan Capistrano Mission.

So typical of early California days was the wedding that it seemed that the pages of Time might have been turned back to the days of the Dons for the wedding of a daughter of the proud and brave men and women who gave to California a romantic and glamorous background.

The bride entering the church on the arm of her father was wearing a white slipper satin, the neck of her gown outlined with pearls and a lace mantilla draped over her dark hair. Her bouquet was of small white flowers and maidenhair fern centered with a white orchid.

Miss Alice G. Walker was maid of honor and wore a turquoise blue velvet frock with matching mantilla. The bridesmaid, Miss Jane Ray, wore shell pink satin with matching mantilla. Both carried arm bouquets of Talisman roses. The little flower girl, Marilyn May, was in blue net with a wreath of flowers around her head in a halo effect. Harry Kelso was best man and ushers were Sidney Johnson and Arnold Stroschein.

The beautiful contralto voice of the mother of the bride was heard in "Ave Maria," just before the ceremony, a black-robed choir joining with her in singing the choruses. Two tall candles burned at the ancient gold altar which was brought here by mule back.

Father Arthur J. Hutchinson read the impressive marriage service and after the ceremony was over guests were received by the young couple and their parents in the enclosed mission garden, bright with flowers and gay with the song of the many birds that make the mission their home.

The young couple left on a honeymoon trip which will take them north as far as Lake Louise, the bride wearing a smartly tailored black suit with silver fox trimmings. On their return the new Mr. and Mrs. Stauss will live in San Juan Capistrano. The bride is a descendant of Jose Antonio Estudillo who owned the house which is said to have been Ramona's home, and of Capt. Henry Magee, who sailed around the Horn in 1847 and who married the beautiful and kind Victoria de Pedrona, called "Saint Victoria" by the Indians.

Included in the gifts to the bride was an historic jewel of France, a gift some time ago to Mrs. Magee. At one time the jewel was in the Louvre and she had it set in a ring for her daughter.

Wedding Vows Are Spoken In Lovely Flower Setting

That stately auditorium of First Presbyterian church was given the additional beauty of snowy chrysanthemums and madonna lilies, flickering white tapers and massed greenery, for the youthful beauty of a bridal party Saturday evening, when Miss Frances Louise Was and John Winfield Lindsey exchanged their wedding vows.

It was a large wedding, for the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Was, 617 Orange avenue, and her bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Lindsey of Tustin, have a world of school and family friends in the community. The many guests gathered in time to enjoy a recital preceding the 7:30 o'clock rites, with Pauline Graaf Rhoades (Mrs. Harold Rhoades) at the organ. The program included with love songs and traditional wedding marches, a solo group by Miss Anne Wetherell, who sang "Toujours L'Amour, Toujours," and that favorite of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Walter Beane of San Jose, "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes."

Led by the ushers, Messrs. Truscott Lindsey, Marshall ("Bill") Lindsey, Frank Was Jr. and Justin Wohlbrink, the bridal party formed at the altar where the Rev. O. Scott McFarland waited to conduct the impressive service. Following the pastor from the vestry were Mr. Lindsey and his best man, William Pyles of Huntington Park.

Entry of Bride
Miss Was, approaching the altar on the arm of her father, to be given by him in marriage, was a picture of lovely girlhood in her simply fashioned gown of taffeta. Her misty veil flowed around her shoulders and down to finger-tip length, from a frill of tulle caught with gardenias. The flowers caught the pastor from the vestry were Mr. Lindsey and his best man, William Pyles of Huntington Park.

Preceding the bride were her attendants, Miss Jean Reuter, maid of honor, Miss Georgianne Angne, Miss Jane Hoover, Miss Charlotte Mock and Mrs. Chris Ema, herself a bride of recent date, the former Miss Jean McAuley. All of them carried quaint nosegays of peach pompon dahlias and blue delphinium encircled with lace and tied with long blue ribbons.

Miss Reuter's gowns were of ivory lace over peach taffeta, and the bridesmaids alternated the colors of peach and blue, all girdled with rust-hued velvet ribbons. Little Miss Margaret Ann ("Peggy") Was as her sister's flower girl, carried a similar nosegay with her pretty peach taffeta frock.

When the new Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey and their wedding party received guests later in the church social rooms, Mr. and Mrs. Was and the senior Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey were the reception line. Mrs. Was was handsomely gowned in chiffon velvet of aqua blue with which she wore gardenias. Deep red rosebuds completed Mrs. Lindsey's effective costume of royal blue silk crepe.

Repeating the peach and blue motif established by the frocks of the bride's attendants, were table decorations with the flower centerpiece glowing in the light of tapers. The tiered wedding cake, beautifully decorated, was baked by Mrs. Rhoades Reuter, mother of the maid of honor. The newly wedded pair made a pretty ceremony of cutting the first two slices simultaneously. Silver coffee service at the table were presided over by aunts of the young couple, Miss Margaret Truscott of this city, and Mrs. Milton Bowler of Sierra Madre. Both wore pink gowns.

San Francisco and Lake Tahoe will be honeymoon land for the new Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey, who are returning to a home where they have been waiting for the bride. For traveling the bride chose a black crepe frock worn with salt and pepper reefer in herringbone tweed and matching accessories. When they return home, Mr. Lindsey will resume his duties with the Los Angeles General Petroleum company. He graduated from Chaffey Junior college after completing high school in Tustin.

The new Mrs. Lindsey was very prominent in all Santa Ana High school and Junior college scholastic and campus affairs, and has been in the office of Dr. Harry G. Huffman.

Brea Resident Feted At Shower Given by Recent Bride

Former school friends and a group of relatives formed the guest group Saturday night when Mrs. Robert Farrar gave a shower in her home, 1228 North Broadway, in honor of Miss Judith Smith of Brea, whose marriage to Peter Marone of Bishop will take place this season.

Mrs. Farrar (Evelyn Hilgenfeld) a recent bride, made use of many of her lovely wedding gifts in appointing her home for the party. She was assisted in entertaining by her mother and sisters, Mrs. F. E. Hilgenfeld of Fullerton, Mrs. Harvey C. Nunn of Glendora and Miss Frances Hilgenfeld, Los Angeles.

Suggesting a bridal motif were games played early in the evening, with prizes going to the Misses Letty Joe and Betty Jean Zimmer. Miscellaneous shower gifts for Miss Smith were arranged on a large table centered with a decorated umbrella. The same shower motif was observed in decorations for the refreshment interval, which the group enjoyed while seated at tables lighted with candles. Pink autops were adorned with the daintiest of umbrellas. Flower-adorned cakes of diamond design were served with heart-centered ice cream.

In the group with the honoree, Miss Judith Smith were her mother and two sisters, Mrs. Joseph Smith, Mrs. Beverly Smith and Mrs. Joseph Wade, with Mrs. Jess Todd, Mrs. Donald Shaffer and Mrs. Ala Collins, Brea; Mrs. F. E. Hilgenfeld, Mrs. Ernest Zimmer, Mrs. Forrest Twinn and the Misses Betty Jean Zimmer, Letty Joe Zimmer and Alma Ruth Shaw, Anaheim; Mrs. Jack Pickering, Miss Jacqueline Pickering, Riverside; Mrs. Edward Hyde, Huntington Beach; Mrs. H. T. Alsip, Placentia; Mrs. Floyd Monroe, Wilmington; Mrs. Glenn Young, Bellflower; Mrs. Frances K. Hill, Glendora; Miss Frances K. Hill, Glendora; Mrs. G. H. Smith, Banning; Mrs. B. T. Monhollen, Lancaster; Mrs. Charles W. Smith, Miss Charlene Smith, Bishop.

Wollert-Moore Rites Occur in Chapel

Santa Ana Wedding chapel was scene Saturday of a pretty ceremony at which Thelma O. Moore of this city, daughter of T. W. Nichols of Brawley became the bride of Edward C. Wollert, 108 Stanford street.

The Rev. Earl C. Bloss read the ceremony, for which the chapel was decorated with gladioli and other autumn flowers. Organ music was played. Miss Moore wore an oxford grey suit with white accessories and a gardenia corsage bouquet. Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Keller were attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Wollert motored to the Ventura home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ballantine, for wedding dinner. The newly-married pair plan to spend their honeymoon in Lake Tahoe and San Francisco, returning to Santa Ana.

Wedding Vows Repeated By Couple On Golden Anniversary

Time has silvered their hair and etched their faces in a pattern of beautiful old age, but it has not dimmed the interest in life for Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Harding, 515 North Garvey street, nor lessened the beauty of their companionship of half a century of married life.

Yesterday on the golden anniversary of their marriage back in Mrs. Harding's girlhood home of Binghamton, N. Y. they gave fitting observance to the date, and with their children and grandchildren to aid them, received scores of friends throughout the afternoon hours.

Events of the wedding day were duplicated when Mr. and Mrs. Harding repeated the vows they took fifty years ago. Their pastor, the Rev. W. S. Buchanan of First Christian church, officiated at the pretty service, and the handsome flowers sent as tribute from so many friends, formed the background. To further the illusion that time's pages were turned back, Mrs. Harding wore the same dress she had worn for the wedding on September 25, 1888. This was white net in an elaborate lace pattern, her own handwork, worn over white silk, although as her bridal costume, she wore it over delicate pink. With it she wore golden-pink hearted Talisman roses, with a single rosebud forming Mr. Harding's boutonniere.

Miss Laura Harding, daughter of the home, and her brothers and their wives assisted in receiving guests. The family circle was formed of Mr. and Mrs. George Harding and Mr. and Mrs. William Harding, all of this community. Two nephews came from San Diego, Donald Lillie and Danny Jones, and a niece, Mrs. Arthur E. Wilson of Indianapolis, timed her visit to be here for the golden wedding. Mrs. Harding's sister, Mrs. Henry Walters of Binghamton, who has spent several months here, extended her visit so that she might be present for the celebration. Her son will arrive shortly from Binghamton, and she will return east with him after a few weeks.

Mrs. Richard Cashion, a close family friend, lent assistance throughout the afternoon, aiding in serving wedding cake, ice cream rounds centered with golden wedding bells, nuts and candy. The grandsons of the celebrants, Norton Donald, Gene, Robert and Roy Harding, served the guests, and the one granddaughter, little Miss Barbara Harding, presented the white and gold guest book to be signed. Miss Barbara also played such appropriate numbers as "Silver Threads Among the Gold."

The marriage of pretty Adelaide Warner and H. L. Harding was a quiet one half a century ago, in a parsonage home of the Methodist minister of Binghamton, and was followed by a family dinner and a round of visits among relatives in that section of New York, and in the bridegroom's former home of New Milford, Penna. Mr. Harding was engaged in farming, and when the family came to California 37 years ago, continued his ranching activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Harding are identified with First Christian church activities, and scores of friends from the church were among those calling yesterday. There were handsome gifts for the celebrants, all displayed on a big table glowing with flowers.

In addition to relatives mentioned, there were other relatives and friends from Pasadena, Riverside, Long Beach, Corona, Hemet and Monrovia among the afternoon guests.

to make their home. The bride's traveling costume was in burgundy shade, with brown accessories.

Recent Bride Welcomed By Family Group

It was a charming courtesy which Mrs. M. C. Pollard, 111 El Portal, paid her grandmother's bride, Mrs. Leslie Pollard, Saturday afternoon with a formal welcome accorded the bride from her husband's family circle.

Invited ostensibly to meet one of her new aunts, Mrs. Jennie Stewart, of Covina, the new Mrs. Pollard arrived at the home to be greeted by a large group of guests. The home was given a festive air by the flowers in rich autumn shades, as a background for a games program introduced by Mrs. Ronald Pollard.

Following this interval, the hostess read a friendly little note welcoming the bride into the family circle. She then presented her with slips of paper containing clues to the hiding places of an array of pretty and practical shower gifts from the assembled guests. Refreshments were served to bring the happy afternoon to a close.

The party honoree was a bride of September 4, and was the former Miss Martha Dowling. The marriage was a quiet event in Young Presbyterian church. Mr. and Mrs. Pollard are now living at 842 North Garvey street, where the many lovely shower gifts will find a place.

The mothers of the young couple, Mrs. Agnes Dowling of this city, and Mrs. Walter J. Pollard of Tustin, were among party guests, and their two grandmothers were present also, Mrs. M. C. Pollard, the hostess, and Mrs. Elizabeth Nelson.

Others present with the honoree were Mesdames Rosa Pollard, Merle Pollard, May Spessard, Miss Evelyn Spessard, Tustin; Mrs. Elaine Spessard, Costa Mesa; Mrs. Cora Smith, Redlands; Mrs. Jennie Stewart and son, Charles, Covina; Mrs. Vera Staley, Laguna Beach; Miss Gertrude Pollard, Los Angeles; Mrs. Lois Spessard, Mrs. Allie Ward and Mrs. Ollie House, Santa Ana.

You And Your Friends

Mr. and Mrs. George Palmer, 1145 South Birch street, returned Saturday from a few days' stay in San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Beeman, 910 French street, entertained as recent guests, Dr. and Mrs. A. J. McCracken of Bellefontaine, Ohio, who were in the Southland for the Legion convention, and Mrs. McCracken's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Jenkins of Whittier. Mrs. Beeman and Mrs. McCracken, former girlhood friends, attended Indianapolis, Ind., schools together.

Mr. and Mrs. John Maret, 1469 Orange avenue, and their daughter, Mrs. Joseph Hazen, 315 Occidental street, visited relatives in Alhambra yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison H. Fairfield, 1111 North Bristol street, are home from Peter Pan lodge at Big Bear, where they spent the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph T. Cunningham, 1316 South Flower street, returned Sunday from a two and a half weeks' trip east. They traveled by automobile, stopping at such interesting points as Grand Canyon, the Painted Desert and Colorado Springs in route to Iowa. They spent the greater part of the time in Des Moines, where they were entertained by relatives. The Santa Anans stopped to visit friends in Southern Kansas en route home, taking the route which leads through Texas and Oklahoma.

Mrs. Margaret Read, 402 South Birch street, will leave tonight on the Los Angeles Limited, for a visit in Chicago, with relatives, and in Geneva, Ill., with her sister, Miss Mary Wilson. Accompanying her on the trip is her granddaughter, Mrs. Edward Sugden, 414 West Chestnut street. They will be gone until just before Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Mabel Purington, 610 North Ross street who is a patient at Santa Ana Valley hospital, is reported seriously ill. She is unable to receive visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bird, J. H. Hazen and daughter, Ethel May, of 315 Occidental street, visited the Los Angeles county fair at Pomona Sunday.

Mrs. Kate Maxwell and daughter, Miss Albena Furrer, left recently for their home in Santa Paula following a three weeks' visit with Mrs. Maxwell's sister, Mrs. E. Trotter and family, of Ritchey street.

89th Birthday is Made Occasion for Happy Family Gathering

Attaining his eighty-ninth year yesterday, George E. Preble, for many years one of the community's leading contractors and builders, was honored by his family at a happy all-day gathering in San Fernando.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Preble were dinner hosts in compliment to their father, and children and grandchildren gathered to do him honor. A year ago when a similar family gathering celebrated the anniversary, it was staged in the home of a Santa Ana son and daughter-in-law, the S. I. Prebles.

An elaborate birthday dinner was served at mid-day, including with the dessert course, a beautifully decorated cake. Opportunity was taken at this time to present gifts to the guest of honor, whose little talk of appreciation went straight to the hearts of all those present.

Born on September 25, 1849 in York Village, Maine, Mr. Preble in early manhood entered upon his life work of building. He came to Santa Ana in 1876 and many business houses in this city stand as a monument to him. His son, S. I. Preble, continues the family tradition here. Still strong both mentally and physically, Mr. Preble promises to reach the century mark.

He and Mrs. Preble went to San Fernando yesterday in company with the S. I. Prebles and their daughter and son, Miss Dorothy and Sam Preble, Jr. His namesake grandson, George Preble Jr., was unable to be present as he and his wife are vacationing at Big Bear. Miss Lillie Wells, a close family friend, accompanied the Santa Anans to the birthday event, where they joined the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Preble and their son Jimmie, Mr. and Mrs. William Quinn of Hollywood (Mrs. Quinn was Josephine Preble) and the relatives from Wasco.

These were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grundt (Mrs. Grundt was Viola Preble) and their children, Miss Mary Grundt and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hess and children, Buddy and Herman; Mrs. Esther Preble Miller and her children, Bill and Jane Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gorman and their baby daughter, Charlene.

Dinner Party Climaxes Vacation Stay on Balboa Island

Climaxing a vacation stay on Balboa Island, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clark of this city received a group of young couples Saturday evening in the pleasant beach home.

Aiding the hosts during the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lowry of Midway City, who spent the past week on the Island with Mr. and Mrs. Clark.

Some of the group arrived early in the evening for a swim in the bay. Following the serving of dinner, cards were played. Winning prizes were Mr. and Mrs. Paul K. Nelson, who scored high and Jack Morris.

In the party with the Clarks and Mr. and Mrs. Lowry were Orange residents, Mr. and Mrs. James Goode, Mr. and Mrs. Paul K. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. William Jork-Morhorst and Mr. and Mrs. Kark-Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark will have as dinner guests tonight in their home, in this city, Mr. and Mrs. John Dunlap of Sacramento, former Santa Anans who are visiting here.

Pretty Affair Given By Pair Of Hostesses

Choosing Hotel Laguna in Our Village as setting for an early autumn hospitality which they extended a large group of friends Saturday afternoon, Mrs. John Tessmann and Mrs. Cood Adams of this city presided at a charmingly arranged affair.

The co-hostesses received in the sun room where quantities of zinnias added to the inviting setting. Aiding in checking were Mesdames A. J. Lashy, E. B. Sprague, Maurice Enderle and H. J. Plumb.

A bouquet of coxcomb and asters in the foyer was in red and lavender, stressing the deepest tones of the bouquets which adorned U-shaped tables in the dining room. Arranged in low white bowls, these table bouquets were of larkspur, roses, pompon dahlias and delphinium, shading from light to deep blue, and from palest pink to rose. Sprays of asters provided a touch of lavender. Alternated with the mixed bouquets were trailing arrangements of antigonon, whose dainty blossoms added to the charm of the setting.

For bridge play of the afternoon, players were divided into four groups. Hand-woven linens were prizes rewarding Mrs. J. E. Gowen, Mrs. Sara Johnston Haddon, Mrs. Mark Lacy and Mrs. Charles Duritt.

Announcements

Birthday Celebrations Provide Successive Surprises

Breaking the record of never having been the victim of a surprise party, Mrs. Charles Swanner had two surprises on successive evenings the past week, both in celebration of a birthday anniversary.

The first affair, held Friday night in the Swanner home on East Seventeenth street, was engineered in every respect by little Miss Patricia Swanner as a compliment to her mother. Patricia not only had invited the little group of intimate friends to spend the evening, but had even baked the big chocolate birthday cake with its candle decorations. She asked her grandmother, Mrs. John Swanner to bake another cake, and arranged for them to be served with ice cream.

The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. W. Bradford Hellis, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Warner and Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Dunstaple. Little Miss Cara Swanner assisted her "big sister" in welcoming the guests, and remained to watch her mother open an array of birthday packages.

Second Event
Saturday evening, Mr. Swanner was host in his wife's home. The little family circle dined together at dinner's end, and returning home in early evening hours, found party guests waiting in the darkened living room, ready to sing "Happy Birthday" as Mrs. Swanner entered.

The merry group brought flowers for decorating the home, and sandwiches, cake, ice cream and coffee for the refreshment hour. To Mrs. Swanner, the guests presented a handsome pair of hurricane lamps.

In the party with the Swanners were the Paul Ragans, the Dana Washburns, the William Wollastons, the Fred Merkers and the Joseph H. Dangers.

Former J. C. Spinster Was Bride At June Wedding Rites

Guests late the past week in the Laguna Beach home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert L. Foerschler and the latter's mother, Mrs. Emma Keller, were Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Kraser, who were en route from Alameda to Orange, New Jersey, where they will make their home.

Mrs. Kraser was Miss Bernice Keller, granddaughter of Mrs. Emma Keller, and a former student at Santa Ana Junior college where she was active in Sisterhood of Spinsteres in addition to other campus groups. Following graduation there she took a three years' training course in nursing at McKenna hospital, Sioux Falls, So. Dak. A year ago she returned to California to take the post of supervisor at the Alameda hospital where Dr. Kraser was resident physician.

Their romance was staged against the hospital background, and their marriage occurred in early June at Fairfield Methodist church with the Rev. C. Buckner officiating. Dr. Kraser's professional training began in the university at Syracuse, N. Y., where he took his B. A. degree, followed by six years of medical study at Tübingen in Germany where he won his M. D. He plans now in establishing a practice in his former home of Orange, New Jersey, where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Kraser, reside.

As the young people motor east they will stop at Viborg, So. Dak., to visit the parents of Mrs. Kraser, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Keller. The bride's grandmother and aunt, Mrs. Emma Keller and Mrs. Feerschler, formerly lived in Santa Ana, and Mrs. Foerschler will be remembered as Miss Naomi Keller.

PINOCHLE CLUB

Although Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Maier's home in Garden Grove is not yet completed, it was setting for an evening of pinochle shared late last week by members of the Hit and Miss club. Dinner at Santiago park preceded other events. Mrs. Richard Pagett and John H. Turton held the two highest scores. Present with Dr. and Mrs. Pagett and the Turtons were the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Maier and Messrs. and Mesdames John Cozad, Fay Barnett and William Ekles, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolf of Costa Mesa, who belong to the club, are visiting in Indiana.

Mixing Bowl

BY ANN MEREDITH

Front and rear elevations of the human body present conflicting views when one is definitely on the road to being "fat." A front view will often show a reasonably slim figure, but when viewed from the back the first thing noted will be a much shortened waist line, over-padded hips, heavy shoulders and upper arms. This soft fat can be easily conquered by use of the famous Banana-Skimmed Milk diet. It does the work in short order, provided you can content yourself with bananas and milk. You are allowed on this diet:

For breakfast: coffee without sugar. A glass of skimmed milk and 2 bananas.

For lunch: 2 bananas and a glass of skimmed milk, or buttermilk.

For dinner: skimmed milk (1 glass) and 2 bananas.

At bed time: hot skimmed milk.

On the fourth day, add to the diet a green salad at lunch, skimpily dressed with oil and lemon; a cooked green vegetable for dinner; black coffee, unsugared, at any time.

At the end of the week, add a small serving of liver or steak to the dinner allowance. Discontinue the diet after the tenth day and switch to the Safe and Sane diet if weight is still too high.

The Safe and Sane reducing diet is available at all times by writing for it. Please enclose return addressed, stamped envelope.

Bridal and Birthday Themes Dominate Family Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Verle G. Smith, bridegroom and bride of September 8, shared honors with Mr. Smith's twin sister, Mrs. Ralph Woodin (Merle Smith) Friday night at a wedding reception and birthday party shared by a family group.

Mr. and Mrs. Alpheus Smith, parents of Verle G. Smith and Mrs. Woodin, gave the affair in their home on Harbor boulevard. Guests were interested in learning details of the quiet wedding in Salt Lake City September 8 of Miss Florence June Wariner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newton L. Wariner, 925 French street, and Verle G. Smith. Salt Lake City's famous Mormon temple was setting for the ceremony. Accompanying the betrothed pair to Utah for the event were the bridegroom's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Rulon Smith, and a sister, Miss Lucille Smith. Miss Smith is remaining in Utah to begin her second year of teaching at Layuda.

The newly-married couple recently returned home from their trip, and Friday night's party gave several members of the family opportunity to present their wedding gifts to them. In addition, there were birthday remembrances for the bridegroom and for Mrs. Woodin.

Mr. and Mrs. Alpheus Smith served dinner at a long dining room table centered with the daintiest of flowers lighted by yellow and blue tapers. Later in the evening birthday cakes were placed at either end of the table, and served with the dessert course. Musical numbers included vocal solos by Miss Dorothy Smith; and trio selections by Mrs. Woodin, and the Misses Dorothy and Wilda Smith. Present with Mr. and Mrs. Verle G. Smith, the newly-wedded pair were the bride's mother, Mrs. Newton Wariner, Miss Myrta Wariner, Mrs. Leo Wariner, Hoag Wariner, Mr. and Mrs. S. Gardner, Robert Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Alpheus Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Le Roy Smith, the Rulon Smiths, Blair Smith, the Misses Dorothy and Wilda Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Woodin.

Mr. and Mrs. Verle Smith are residing in the family home on Harbor boulevard, and the bridegroom is associated with his father in the dairy business. A graduate of Garden Grove High school, the junior Mr. Smith returned in June from three years of mission work in Argentine, Buenos Aires. His bride, who had her schooling in Fort Worth, Tex., came to this community with her parents two years ago.

west for the National Legion convention, and also was a Michigan delegate to the 8 and 40 convention session at the same time.

DIET HOW-TO-MAKES
Luncheon Salad: Make a combination vegetable salad, dress lightly with oil, and lemon juice. Add to individual servings 1-3 cupful of cleaned sliced corned shrimp. Spinach with Egg: Use fresh or canned spinach. Simmer in open kettle to evaporate liquid, dress with a spoonful of mayonnaise, salt, pepper and a dash of NUTMEG. Garnish diet portion with half of a hard-boiled egg, sliced.

GUESTS FROM EAST

Mr. and Mrs. Don A. Bremer, 921 Kilson Drive, have been having some interesting guests the past week, including Mrs. R. J. Vedwell, Mr. Bremer's sister, here from Kenilworth, Ill.

They entertained also, Mrs. Helen Spring of Muskegon, Mich., who is president of the American Legion auxiliary of her home city, came

Damascus White Shrine

Damascus White Shrine members having birthdays in August or September were accorded honors at Friday night's meeting in Masonic temple, where Worthy High Priestess Florence Wright and Watchman of Shepherds Dr. James Workman presided.

Escorted were Dorothy French and Joseph French, worthy high priestess and past watchman of shepherds of Pomona White Shrine, Harold Miller, watchman of shepherds and Mrs. Miller of Long Beach.

It was announced that last week's rummage sale held by the local Shrine was quite a success. Plans were furthered for an annual Halloween carnival to be held October 28 in the temple.

Miss Vina Mae Harmer sang "Marie" and "Mickey Mouse's Birthday Party" and played on the cordon numbers, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Esther Shields. Refreshments were served in the banquet hall under direction of Mrs. Jean Bohlender, with Pearl Hyde and Florence Wright in charge of decorations. Others on the committee were M. A. Taylor, Blanche Vaughn, Walter Wright, Charles Ryan, Albert Wallace and Charles Whittet.

Seated at the birthday table were Marian Wallace, Gladys Goodrich, Joseph French, Pearl Nicholson, Hattie Basier and Dr. Estelle Workman.

FIREMAN BATTLE TWO FIRES

KENYON, Minn., (UP)—Firemen from Faribault rushed to attack a blaze in the Lambert Lumber yards here in a blazing truck. After they extinguished the flames beneath the hood of the fire truck, they joined in battling the lumberyard blaze.

LATE NEWS FROM ORANGE

CLUB SECTION OPENS SEASON

Bob Baines New Forum President

PASTOR SPEAKS ON NEW RUSSIA

ORANGE, Sept. 26.—The second Toastmasters section of the Orange Woman's club held its initial meeting of the club year Friday night at the Woman's club, formulating plans for the year under the direction of the newly elected president, Mrs. Arthur T. Hobson. Two new members, Mrs. Myron C. Cole and Mrs. Angeline Courtney, were welcomed.

ORANGE, Sept. 26.—Bob Baines was elected president of the College Age forum of the Presbyterian church last night when the group met after evening church services to discuss the sermon, "The New Russia," Dean Schoenfeldt was elected vice president, Melba Estes, secretary, and Dave Welsh, treasurer.

ORANGE, Sept. 26.—The fact that Russia is different in race, philosophy and government from any other European country was stressed last night in a lecture, "The New Russia," by Dr. Robert Burns McAulay, pastor of the First Presbyterian church when he spoke on the third topic of a current series on Europe.

CHOIR MEMBERS OUTLINE PLANS

Mrs. Donovan was elected secretary to replace Mrs. L. F. Finley, who has taken a year's leave of absence from club duties. Resignations of Mrs. L. M. Gish, Santa Ana, and Mrs. S. P. Harris were accepted with regrets.

ORANGE, Sept. 26.—A reception for freshmen at the Orange union high school who became members of the young people's choir of the First Methodist church was held last evening in the home of the choir director, Margaret Rowlands Harper, River avenue. Plans for the year were discussed and group singing was enjoyed. Refreshments were served.

"To compare America and Russia is like comparing an apple and a potato; there is no basis of comparison," said the Orange pastor.

Table topics were "Vacations." Mrs. George H. Peterson told of attending the farm bureau camp in the San Bernardino mountains. Mrs. C. L. Benson of a birthday dinner and outing. Mrs. Courtney of a week at Long Beach. Mrs. Adelaide Adair of a visit to Laguna Beach. Mrs. Perry Groat of spending several days at Forest Home where she supervised four young boys of the family.

Miss Audrey Hancock is president of the group and assisting her were members of a committee on arrangements, Miss Barbara Robinson, Miss June Winget and Miss Marjorie Lawson.

200 Automobiles There is truly but one class, Dr. McAulay told church attendants. It is possible to earn a large salary, for the Russian worker is paid for what he does, but clothing is apportioned by population. There are 2000 automobiles in a nation that takes 10 days to cross by fast express, he said.

Hold Red Cross Meeting Tuesday

Young people present included Ruth Diebner, Barbara Robinson, Virginia Wilber, Eleanor MacKinnon, Eleanor Tarvin, Dale Proffitt, Doris MacKinnon, Eleanor Buckles, John Daughenbaugh, Bernice Rowlands, Kenneth Markham, Bobby Jerome, Blanche Patton, Helen Drescher, Ruth Fuerstman, Marjorie Lawson, Kenneth E. Claypool Jr., Thomas Rowlands, Harold Proffitt, June Winget, Audrey Hancock, William Eaton, Olive May Proffitt, Jack Hancock, George Potter, Charles McCoskey, Mary Reed, Laura Rowlands, Dick MacKinnon, Lois Risher, Jack Wilber, Leonard Crofoot, Arthur T. Hobson Jr. and Dick Ivens.

Understanding Urged In closing, Dr. McAulay urged people of the United States to try to understand the Russian people. "They, too, are of the world, and if one thousandth of what they told us is true, we cannot blame them for revolting," he said.

ORANGE, Sept. 26.—The annual meeting of the Orange Junior and Senior Red Cross chapters, with Calvin Flint, dean of men of the Santa Ana Junior college, as speaker, will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at the Woman's clubhouse.

Club Section To Hold Card Party

Two Russian hymns by Alexis T. Lwoff were sung by the congregation, and the choral anthem was "To a Voice," by Fortinsky. Mrs. Jarvis Sweet offered a solo, "O Divine Redeemer."

Those attending have been asked by the president of Orange Red Cross chapter to bring their families and Junior Red Cross societies have been asked to send at least one representative from each room of the schools. There is no admission charge and no collection will be taken.

ORANGE, Sept. 26.—Trends in fall fashions will be shown at the annual fashion show and bridge party sponsored by members of the Junior Matrons' section of the Orange Woman's club October 8 at the clubhouse. A dessert luncheon at 1:30 p. m. will precede cards and the parade of autumn style shown by clubwomen who will act as models.

Mrs. Lee Hostess To Olympic Club

AUXILIARY TO MEET ORANGE, Sept. 26.—Reports of the recent convention at Los Angeles will be read at the regular meeting of the American Legion auxiliary at the clubhouse tonight, Mrs. Irma Davis, president, will lead a business meeting, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Herbert Nelson heads the committee in charge of the event, one of the most important for the season for the section. Mrs. Nelson's committee for the afternoon is as follows: Mrs. Sheldon Swenson, dessert; Mrs. Thomas Rhone, candy; Mrs. Ralph Shannon, models; Mrs. Lloyd Baker, music; Mrs. James Donegan, prizes and decorations; Mrs. Keller Watson Jr., stage management; Mrs. Thomas Bratty, tables; Mrs. O. Kemper Anderson, tickets; Mrs. Seth Muench, tallies.

ORANGE, Sept. 26.—Artistic arrangements of asters and gypsophylla decorated the home of Mrs. A. J. Lee Friday when she welcomed members of the Olympic club to her home for an afternoon of sewing and chatting. Mrs. Lee returned recently from a summer in the east, where she visited in Iowa, Illinois and attended the national G. A. R. and W. R. C. convention. Many interesting souvenirs were shown the guests.

COMING EVENTS

ORANGE PERSONALS

At the close of the afternoon Mrs. Lee served refreshments in two courses and guests were seated at one long table centered with a bouquet of asters. Present were Mesdames Louise Shores, Hattie Buhrman, J. B. Kilgore, Margaret Tulene, Ollie Kurtz, and the hostess.

NEWS OF THE WORLD PORTRAYED IN PICTURES

Chinese Women Are Trained for Defense of Hankow

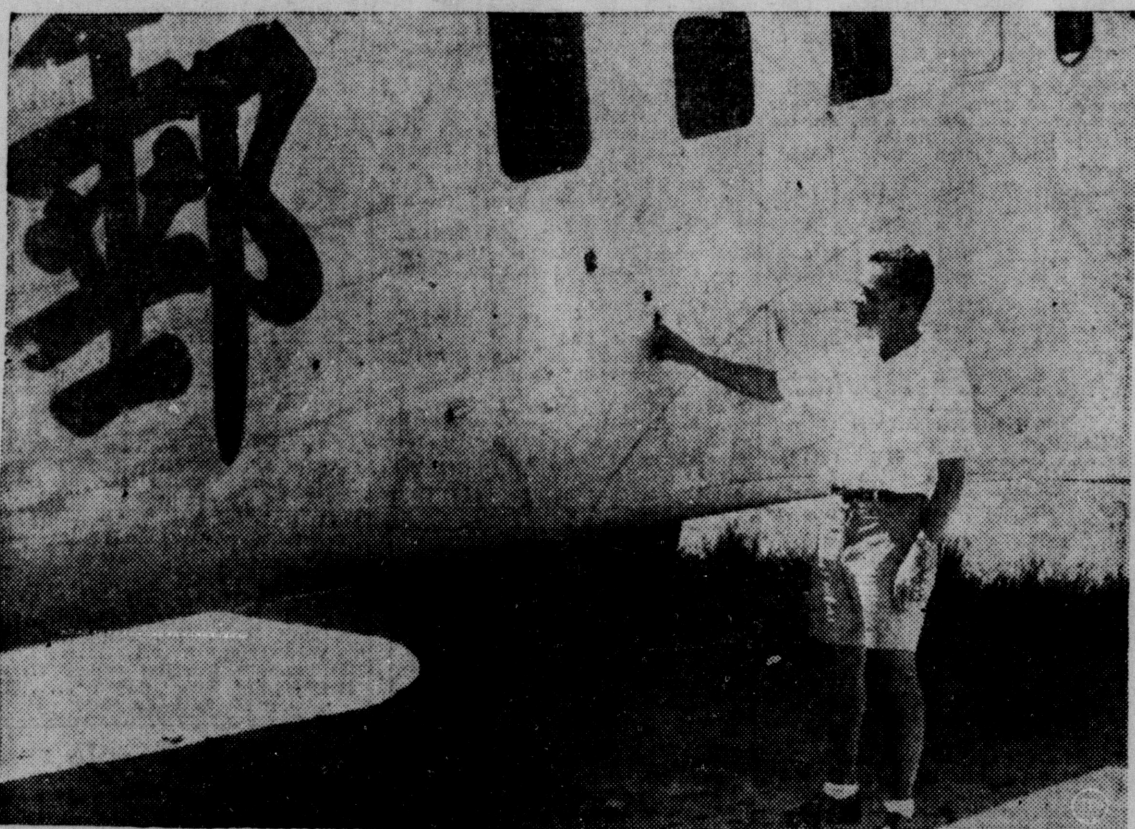

Wives and sweethearts of Chinese at the front—many of these still girls in their teens—have joined heartily in the Hankow defense plan. After weeks of drilling, they are ready to be used in the firing line if the fighting approaches the capital. Meantime, their presence allows the Chinese forces to release to other fronts many men who were held at Hankow.

Test New Lock Regulating Lake Levels

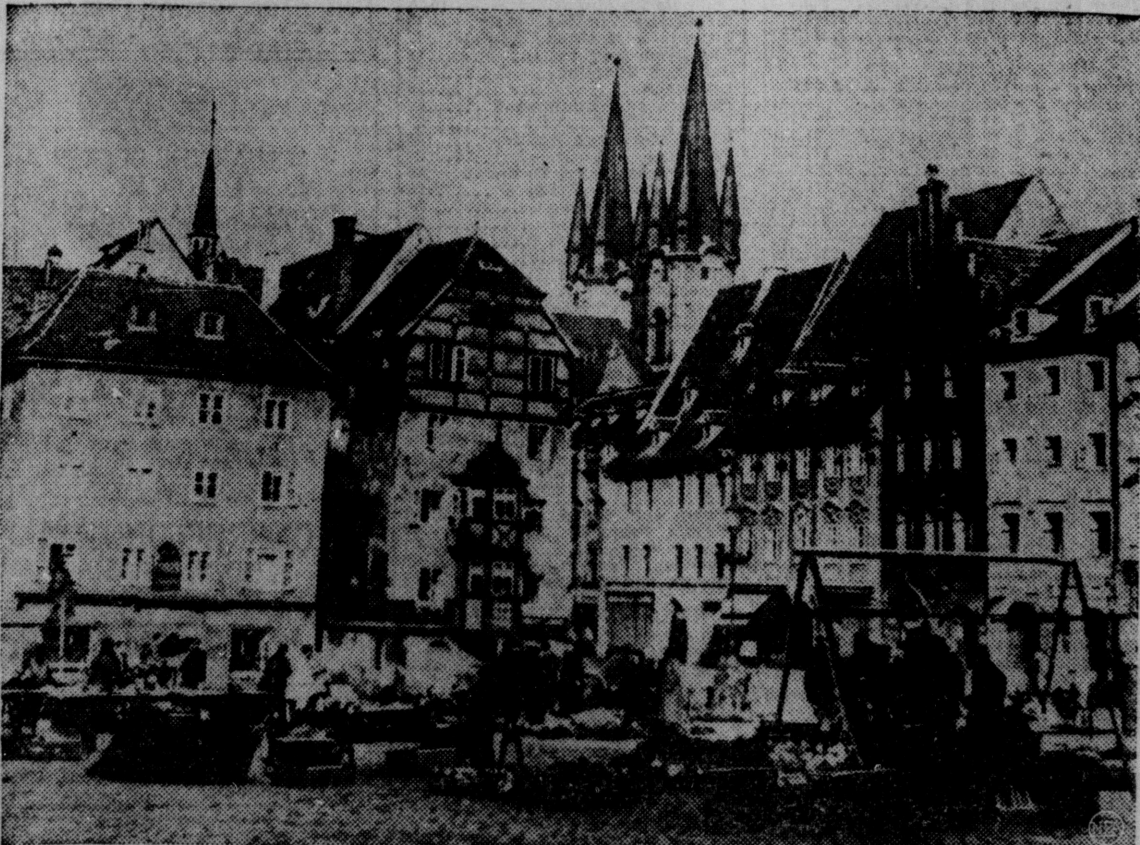

Locks regulating the amount of water Chicago takes from Lake Michigan to make possible navigation southward on the Chicago and Illinois rivers, to the Mississippi, were being tested as the Naval Reserve training ship Wilmette and the fireboat Fred M. Busse passed through them in the picture above. The canal connecting the lake with the river has long been a source of controversy, as draining out the water at the foot of Lake Michigan lowered the water level along the whole Great Lakes basin. A U. S. Supreme Court decision required the building of the lock, which will "lower" ships from the higher lake to the river level, and regulate the amount of water taken from the lakes.

Pilot Surveys Ship Shot Down By Japanese Planes

The pilot and one of the few survivors of a Japanese warplane attack on a Chinese-American owned air transport, views the plane wreckage after it was raised from Pearl River. Hugh L. Woods, American pilot, points to some of the bullet holes. The large marking as to the plane's non-military status was also painted on top of the wings. Thirteen passengers were killed.

Danger Spot In German-Czech Crisis

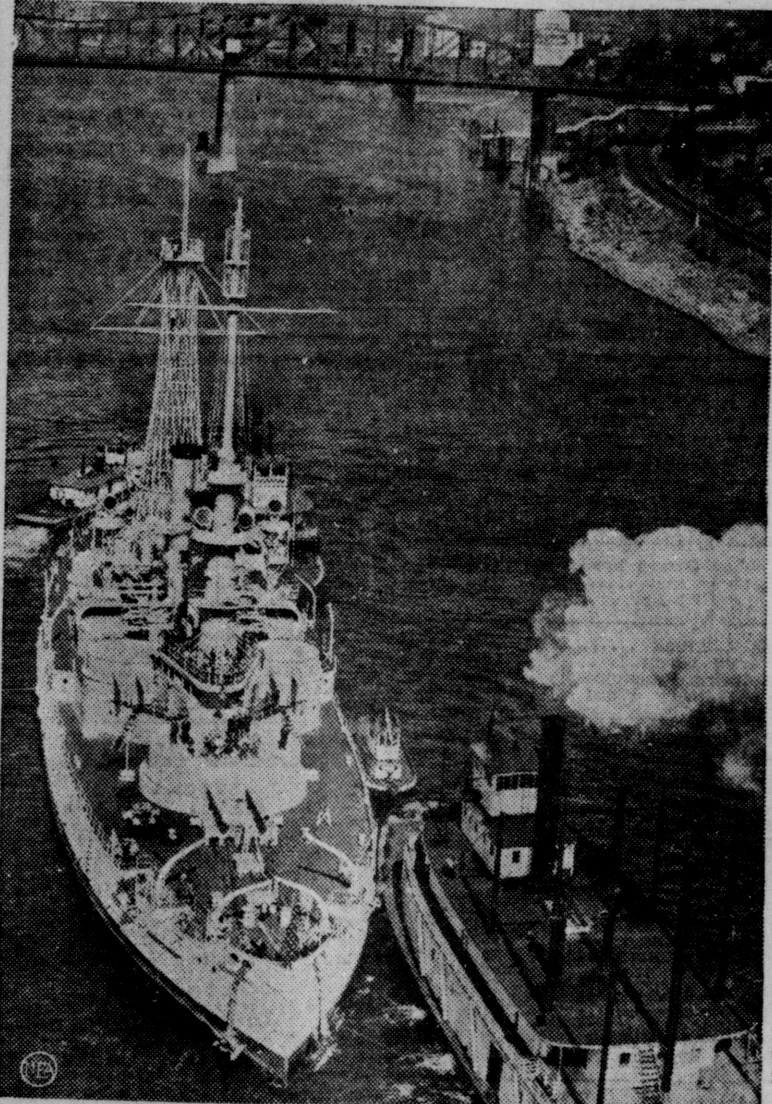

Rallying point for Sudeten German leaders in the Czechoslovakian crisis is the border city of Eger (Cheb), one of the first Sudeten cities placed under martial law by the Czech government. The town's railroad stations were jammed with German Jews and Czechs fleeing the trouble zone as Germany threatened invasion to "protect" the Sudetens. The above picture shows the market place.

Flowers for "Little Fuehrer"

Taking time out from the pressing business of forcing concessions from the Czech government for his fellow pro-Nazi Sudeten Germans, Konrad Henlein, right, stops to receive a floral tribute from two young working girl admirers. The leader of Czechoslovakia's insurgent minority is pictured while en route to a recent conference with Lord Runciman, Great Britain's unofficial mediator.

Ancient Warrior Shifts Mooring

The battleship Oregon's epic race from San Francisco around Cape Horn and arrival off Cuba in time to participate in the battle of Santiago is part of Spanish War history. It is being moved to a permanent mooring in Portland harbor after being near the Broadway Bridge there for 15 years. Dedication exercises will be a feature of the national session of United Spanish War Veterans.

Tydings Takes It Easy

As the returns from the Maryland Democratic primary election continued to pile up votes in his column, the strain of the campaign eased for Senator Millard E. Tydings and he relaxed comfortably, as pictured above, in his Baltimore hotel room. Under White House disapproval, Senator Tydings ran for renomination against Representative David J. Lewis, who had Administration backing.

Stop Murders

Now that the 100 pullets in the poultry yard of the Essex County penitentiary at North Caldwell, N. Y., are looking at the world through rose-colored glasses, as pictured above, Warden Hanna reports they have stopped murdering their prize white leghorns. Any slight peck that drew blood inspired the pullets to leap on the bleeding leghorn and kill it. With the glasses, the murderous pullets cannot distinguish red.

R. I. Candidates

Rhode Island Democrats are expected to renominate Gov. Robert E. Quinn without opposition at the primary set for the first week in October. In the Republican primary, William H. Vanderbilt is expected to be nominated for the governorship.

No War Clouds

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Charles Edison is completely untroubled by the tense situation in Europe. It appears. Edison, who was acting for Secretary Swanson, is pictured as he left a cabinet meeting at the White House in Washington.

Watches Congress

New Englander Marion Martin, above, director of women's activities for the Republican National Committee, proposes to keep G.O.P. women informed on congressional legislation through monthly bulletins.

In-Between Job

Mrs. Dorothy McAllister, above, head of the women's division of the Democratic National Committee, has the job of keeping Democratic women interested in politics and government between elections.

Racket Probe Indicts Mayor

Benjamin Ludlow, Special Deputy Attorney General in charge of Philadelphia's racket investigation, is pictured above in court when the city's Mayor S. Davis Wilson (insert) and four high police officials were indicted by the grand jury on charges of misbehavior in office and failure to suppress gambling.

Elephant Boy Takes Wrap on Head

With Kartar Singh, one of his two husky, bearded Sikh guards, carefully winding his long turban about his head, Sabu, the 15-year-old youngster from Mysore, India, who won fame and fortune in the role of the movie "Elephant Boy," is pictured above as he arrived in New York from London. His full name is Sabu Dastagir, and he is visiting this country to appear before various boys' organizations.

Store Closes When Clerks Strike

The San Francisco store of J. J. Newberry Co. told its employees that in case they went out on strike, the store would close permanently. The employees joined in the retail clerks' strike, and this sign was posted in the Newberry window.

Two 'Hard-Headed Realists'

Two key men—both classed as hard-headed realists in European diplomacy—stand together at the 10th Nazi Congress at Nuremberg, Germany. At this meeting Sir Neville Henderson, left, was believed to have told Field Marshal Hermann Goering, Hitler's right-hand man, that Britain would fight with France in event of German aggression in Czechoslovakia. This photo of the British ambassador and the Nazi war lord was radioed from London.

OUR POSITION ON HIGHER PUBLIC EDUCATION

The recent bond issue for a junior college has raised the question as to whether it is wise for the State to go into higher public education and/or vocational training. If it has done nothing else, it has brought this question before the people. The public has heard the statement that "public education is good" so unchallenged so long and so often that most everyone has come to accept it as a fact when it would appear after careful consideration that it may be or it may not be.

Those people who believe that certain kinds of education at public expense is unethical, undemocratic and un-Christian, come to that conclusion somewhat as follows:

1. They contend that the very essence of good government and Christianity is to develop the judgment and the conscience of the individual; that insofar as possible the individual must not be coerced so long as he does not interfere with other people's equal rights; that voluntary cooperation where it is at all is what is desired rather than a forced or coerced cooperation.

2. They contend that the State should have the right to take the fruits of labor without its court's consent, is to go back to primitive times when the government is all-powerful and the individual's judgment and conscience is submerged. It is, was, to recede from the principles of Christianity.

Sharing The Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles

ARE WE OVER-LEGISLATED?

Inasmuch as the President has defined a liberal largely as one who believes that we need more legislation in order to improve the living standards of the great mass of people, a quotation from Spencer's essay on over-legislation, written some 85 years ago, certainly should be interesting to everyone who would like to give further thought to the effects of more and more legislation.

We quote: "The enthusiastic philanthropist, urgent for some act of parliament to remedy this evil or secure the other good, thinks it a trivial and far-fetched objection that the people will be morally injured by doing things for them instead of leaving them to do things themselves. He vividly conceives the benefit he hopes to get achieved, which is a positive and readily imaginable thing. He does not conceive the diffused, invisible, and slowly-accumulating effect wrought on the popular mind, and so does not believe in it; or, if he admits it, thinks it beneath consideration. Would he but remember, however, that all national character is gradually produced by the daily action of circumstances, of which each day's result seems so insignificant as not to be worth mentioning, he would perceive that what is trifling when viewed in its increments may be formidable when viewed in its total. Or if he would go into the nursery, and watch how repeated actions—each of them apparently unimportant—create, in the end, a habit which will affect the whole future life; he would be reminded that every influence brought to bear on human nature tells, and, if continued, tells seriously. The thoughtless mother who hourly yields to the requests, "Mamma, tie my pinafore," "Mamma, button my shoe," and the like, cannot be persuaded that each of these concessions is detrimental; but the wiser spectator sees that if the policy be long pursued, and be extended to other things, it will end in inaptitude. . . . Well, is it not obvious that this relationship between discipline and success holds good nationally? Are not nations made of men; and are not men subject to the same laws of modification in their adult years as in their early years? Is it not true of the drunkard, that each carouse adds a thread to his bonds? Of the trader, that each acquisition strengthens the wish for acquisitions? Of the pauper, that the more you assist him the more he wants? Of the busy man, that the more he has to do the more he can do? And does it not follow that if every individual is subject to this process of adaptation to conditions, a whole nation must be so—that just in proportion as its members are little helped by extraneous power they will become self-helping, and in proportion as they are much helped they will become helpless? What folly is it to ignore these results because they are not direct, and not immediately visible. Though slowly wrought out they are inevitable. We can no more elude the laws of human development than we can elude the law of gravitation; and so long as they hold true must these effects occur."

This quotation is already long enough, but the part that follows is even more illuminating so we will continue it in the next issue.

Editor Register:

Some time ago you said (in The Register) that you had no way of knowing what kind of paper to put up or what kind of a paper the people wanted only by the people writing in stating what they wanted.

Well, I think that is a good plan, so here goes:

What I Do Not Want—

1. I am glad to see that you do not put in liquor ads.

2. That you do not publish a Sunday edition. I think we ought to go to some church on Sunday, not to read sensational Sunday papers.

God made all things, even us and has given us our personalities and supplies all our needs, so is our Sovereign and we are indebted to Him eternally, and as long as the government is spending upwards of $4,000,000,000 per annum (in one way or another) the business should not be further boosted.

Also make pictures (or nearly as the law of decency allows) of movies—what I think about them is bad. I think the church is paramount and should be patronized and that its general moral effect and influence is good and that the movies counteract this good. Personally I would be glad to see the time when cigarette ads were cut out entirely.

For they (the cigarettes) add nothing to good citizenry, or morals, or good habits and character of young or old.

to it. After reading such a letter I am ready to admit that a college education is wasted on some persons.

Now as to the editorial—After some profound manipulation of statistics, we have the statement that the junior college district has a 19-cent tax rate, while that part of the county not in the district has a nine-cent tax rate; and that this proves that we lose money on the out-of-state pupils.

And the inference is that the added 10 cents goes to pay for the out-of-state pupils. From Mr. Newcomb's letter it seems that the out-of-state pupils constitute less than one-tenth of the membership of our junior college. If the editor's figures are true as to the different tax rates, they prove only that the taxable values outside the district are greater per pupil than those inside the district.

Now, one thought about those out-of-state pupils—Most of them (I should guess about nine-tenths of them) are invited here by some relative or friend with whom they live while here, and since those relatives or friends are able to invite the students into their homes and care for them while here, they probably pay their share of the taxes to provide for their schooling.

When modern Christians were ordered to the pagan gods of war, they too, made their choice—and that historic choice—is eternally registered against them in the vanishing vitality of dying religions.

HENRY WEEKS.

Fellow Citizens:—Your quotation of Thomas Huxley to certain "thinkers, years ago, as to morality, etc., showing that it would be better to starve than steal, is the height of crass ignorance and cupidity of an economic age, passing rapidly.

You may have heard of the cock on the limb of a tree when a fox came along, etc., and then the hounds following, etc. Maybe they have not heard of the peace in the animal kingdom. When financiers, bankers, etc., dispossessed millions of people from their property and homes, they sowed the seeds of their own ruin, as property owners. What they sowed they will reap and in the fall of the buildings of the Philistines, Samson went with it to ruin.

The law of action and re-action is effective as always. There is no objective set, by which a nation moves. It may go into barbarism and the dark ages, or into tolerance and brotherly considerations. The answer is in the future destiny and is unknown to us.

Of course you may not desire to print but one side—capitalism, coercion and starvation. The use of machines is forcing capital to support the unemployed, or chaos.

I discussed the issue with a friend and he remarked that he could not adjust himself to conditions as they are today and as he is educated, I remarked, it is either adjustment or extinction. This is where the Jew can survive by conforming to conditions as are.

I am interested in seeing to what the next move of "Monetary property rights" will be? What value is property with no income?

PRAYERS FOR PEACE

Fellow Citizens: It is nauseating to read in the morning newspapers, such headlines as the following: "Vatican Pleads to Block War." Why didn't the Vatican Block the Rape of Ethiopia when his Italian countrymen invaded the inoffensive country? Here's another: "British Millions Pray for Peace." Well, all that can be said in such case is—that peace and war are matters within the will and power of man; War is waged by man, not by God. Praying for rain is understandable, though rarely successful. For, to produce rain is outside human powers. Praying for peace while preparing for war, shows that we have more faith in, or fear of the human powers which wage war than in the Divine Power to which we pray to prevent war. Men may fight or refuse to fight. In the Great War did the "believers" who now pray for peace, cooperate with their God by refusing to fight? They did NOT!

Prayer for peace is made by those either unable or unwilling to prevent war. In the Great War came the supreme test of the potency of religious belief as the highest force and motive in the actions of believers.

And, how did religion meet this

News Behind The News

By PAUL MALLON

World Copyright 1938 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Roosevelt's business prophets have told him there will be an upsurge as soon as the Czech situation crises itself out.

Fall buying and commitments (wobbly lately) will show general strength, they say. Demand for goods has just been frightened temporarily by the tough jockeying of the European strongmen, as they see it. The market for goods will be all the stronger afterward because of this slowdown.

This is the best political news the president has received this year, with election day only about six weeks off.

Administrator Andrews is so deeply involved in the impossible task of orderly enforcement of his wage-hour law beginning October 25, that no one, including Mr. Andrews, knows how it will come out.

Business men are wiring their Washington advisers asking what will happen if: "Don't comply? Put on extra shifts? Can't comply? etc., etc. There are no answers in most cases.

Best guess is that a lot of business are going to take their chances. Also that congress will have to amend the act next session in many particulars.

(If you ask act author, Senator Ellender, about amendments, his reply will be: "Let's wait awhile to see what happens," which seems to be about what everyone is going to do.)

An unpurged senator is circulating an explosive suggestion among congressmen—the idea that the presidential chair of state carries too much respect and prestige, to permit it to be used in political combats.

France, he says, keeps her president above and out of politics. England reserves the power due the head of her state for a non-political king. Only here, among the major nations, is the head of state a political influence and statesman at the same time.

The senator says this is why the purges could not strike back directly at the president. His office commands too much respect among the people. So they had to attack Corcoran, Cohen, and who not instead.

A remedy should be found before the presidential office is exalted to autocratic influence, says the senator hotly, but confidentially (not mentioning the president's personal prestige.)

Nothing will be done.

Republicans are losing that hang-dog look. Letters are coming into headquarters in volume now, also some checks.

Three recent developments encourage them to believe they may top the official Martin hope for a 76 seat gain—Wisconsin and Massachusetts primaries, failure of the purge.

Purge results seem, to have developed the suspicion, after all, five billion dollars might possibly beat itself.

Large affairs of large men in this big government sometimes escape public attention. Here's one. The advisory committee of hydrologic (just common ordinary water) data of the national water resources committee held a momentous session the other day.

Attended by at least one outstanding university expert who was getting $50 a day from the government, the meeting is thus reported in the official confidential minutes (doubt it at your hazard):

"The chairman brought up as new business the matter of standard descriptive terminology for snow with particular reference to suitability of snow services for skiing. He stated that the railroads and newspapers in various parts of the country were broadcasting statements as to the quality of snow at various winter resorts. The situation was most unfortunate and an eastern skier who went to the far west might find that the quality of snow which he was accustomed to hear described as "corny" would there be described as "mealy" while in Minnesota it was given a Finnish name which he could neither understand nor pronounce. . . . nomenclature must be standardized before it is too late. . . . call a conference of railroads, ski clubs, park authorities, etc. . . . followed by a survey of the important work already done along this line in Europe. . . . and a field study. . . . and so on until:

Professor Thorndike Saville of New York university, presiding, thought "it was important that this job of describing the condition of snow should not get mixed up with the forecasting of the run-off of existing snow," whereupon the weather bureau representative and the bureau of agricultural engineering hurried over that delicate point.

The conclusion was fitting: "After considerable discussion it was the sense of the committee that they did not have jurisdiction over this subject" and the chairman was directed to refer it elsewhere.

BIDS for SMILES

Coming into his den one winter evening when his daughter was entertaining a young man in the library, the father could not avoid hearing their conversation. Something in his daughter's voice caught his attention and he stepped to the door to hear more distinctly.

"No, Bill," she was saying. "I just can't do it."

"What does it matter?"

"Perhaps not at all. But I tell you I can't."

"Even if it mattered so much to me. No one would ever know but you and I." The father moved nearer the door.

"No, it's a question of family pride. I have to think of my grandfather and my father and when I do I just couldn't make myself do anything like that." The frantic father was on the point of turning the knob to protect his daughter.

"Please, please!" It would make me so happy."

"Nothing doing. I'm voting a straight Democratic ticket just like Grandpa, even if you are a candidate."

Give us long enough and we eventually learn. We no longer drive into a filling station for gas and say, "Fill it up." We sign resignedly and mutter, "Run it over."

YOU AND YOUR Nation's Affairs

The Promises Men Live By

By ELIOT JONES

Professor of Transportation and Public Utilities, Stanford University

Mr. Harry Scherman has recently written a very interesting book entitled "The Promises Men Live By." In this book, after explaining why the successful functioning of our best invariably keeps its promises to pay its employees, to meet interest due to banks, and to pay for materials and supplies purchased. Despite the worst industrial depression in history corporations defaulted on less than 10% of their bonds (their long term promises to pay).

Even the banks, thousands of which failed during the recent depression, have an excellent record, on the whole. Mr. Scherman cites figures which show that during the six years from 1929 to 1934, a period that includes the two extremes of the recent business cycle, the banks met more than 98% of their promises to the depositors. The amount of money lost by depositors was large, in the aggregate, but it was small as compared with the tremendous volume of deposits.

The showing of governments, strange as it may seem, is much poorer. It is because the quantity of their promises is so great, and the people are unwilling to submit to a seizure of their income and property sufficient to make the government promises good. It is highly important, therefore, that we keep the promises of our government within bounds, or there may in time be still further repudiation.

The principal reason governments do not make good on their promises is because the quantity of their promises is so great, and the people are unwilling to submit to a seizure of their income and property sufficient to make the government promises good.
